May Day Riots By 20,000 Japs

Machine Gun-Armed Police Charged By Anti-U.S. Mob; Hundreds Hurt

TOKYO, May 1 (CP).—Twenty thousand Communist-led anti-American rioters today fought police with clubs and stones in front of the Imperial Palace.

United States troops armed with machine-guns fanned out through the city to protect foreign lives and property in the worst riot in Japan since the end of the Second World War.

The tumultuous May Day demonstrations came only three days after Japan formally received her independence.

Americans were attacked, stoned and mauled. But none was seriously hurt.

Club-swinging rioters charged 100 steel-helmeted police. They killed 218 officers to the ground, injuring 51 seriously. But each time the police beat back the human waves with tear gas, clubs and guns.

Unarmed hundreds of rioters also were injured. One was reported killed by gunfire.

Rioters also broke out in Kyoto, former capital of Japan 230 miles southwest of Tokyo. There, 3,000 Koreans stormed city offices and fought with police. They were halted by tear gas.

NO PROTEST
A U.S. Embassy spokesman said no official protest was contemplated as a result of the Tokyo riot.

Demonstrators stormed through the streets shouting anti-American slogans, waving Red banners and carrying pictures of Stalin and other Communist leaders.

The Reds broke through police lines and stormed into the Plaza of the Imperial Palace. A large mob barred them from the palace proper.

They milled before the residence of Gorgi Malenkov, a deputy premier and member of the Politburo.

(After the lavish celebration of Malenkov's birthday last January, many Western observers believed he had been picked as Stalin's successor.)

Marshal Leonid Govorov, wartime commander of the Leningrad army, made an anti-Western speech to troops massed in Red Square. He said the Soviet armed forces will deal a "devastating blow to any attempt of imperialist aggressors to interrupt the peaceful and creative labors of the Soviet people."

Standing beside Stalin, he said: "In a mockery of international agreements, the American barbarians are carrying out the greatest crime against humanity—making use of bacteriological weapons in Korea and China."

Until now, no Russian marshal had accused the United States of germ warfare, although Moscow newspapers have made the charge repeatedly.

(The United States denied the charges and proposed that the International Red Cross make an investigation in Korea and China. The Communists refused.)

The parade featured the usual impressive line-up of tanks, artillery and rocket launchers. Files of smart foot soldiers tramped past with bands playing.

Stalin's son, Lt. Gen. Vasily Stalin, piloted a four-engine bomber at the head of the air show over Red Square.

TREDCROFT UPHeld BY E. T. KENNEY

Conservationists Will Go Higher

Appeal against the damming of Buttle Lake for power purposes was dismissed today by Lands and Forest Minister E. T. Kenney.

"Neither upon the law nor the merits (of the arguments) can I find good reason for disturbing the findings of the water rights comptroller," said Mr. Kenney in his decision.

Water rights comptroller E. H. Tredercroft last year approved the B.C. Power Commission's application to dam the lake to store water for power purposes at the John Hart Power Development at Campbell River.

"NO SURPRISE"
Conservationists, represented by T. G. Norris, Q.C., appealed Tredercroft's decision to the minister on the grounds that Tredercroft had no jurisdiction in the matter.

This phase of the appeal was dismissed and most of the conservationists stayed away from the next part of the appeal.

Mr. Kenney has now dismissed the entire appeal. The conservationists can still appeal to the Cabinet.

From Vancouver today Mr. Norris told the Times the decision is no surprise to him because the hearings were "a mere sham."

The lawyer still claims neither Tredercroft or the minister had jurisdiction in the matter.

He said his clients are considering further action, and a Cabinet appeal is likely. If this is not successful, Mr. Norris said it is quite likely the whole issue will wind up in the courts.

The B.C. Power Commission was given permission to dam the lake on these conditions: that it provide for the orderly harvesting of timber within the area to be flooded; provide for the clearing and disposal of all debris; provide for re-stocking of fish in the lake; maintenance of water levels and construction of a road and camp sites at the cost of the commission.

BREAK UP CROWD
The Reds grabbed control of parts of the day's largest gathering at Meiji Park. They broke up a large gathering just before United States Socialist leader Norman Thomas began a speech.

A serpentine column of about 2,000 North Koreans snaked its way around the Foreign Office. The marchers waved pictures of North Korean Communist Premier Kim Il-sung and chanted demands that the Americans be thrown out of Japan.

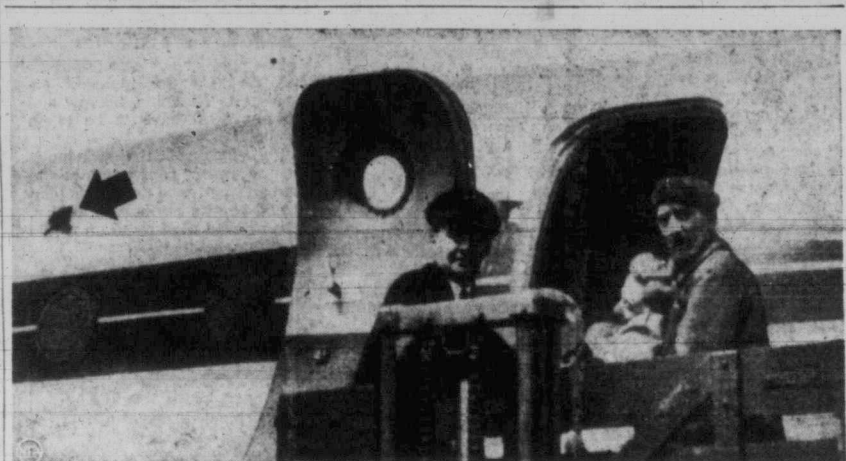

At the Imperial Plaza a mob formed a solid front 30 yards wide and tried to storm the inner gate. About 300 police, swinging clubs and hurling tear gas, drove them back.

More than 20 persons were killed in a 10-minute battle.

Kyodo news agency said about 3,000,000 turned out for the May Day celebrations throughout the country.

The outbreak of violence came three days after Japan was restored to full independence.

Council to Reconsider Abolition of Firehall

Mayor Invokes Veto; Forces Postponement

Mayor Claude Harrison today used his statutory powers to send back to City Council for reconsideration the question of abolition of Yates Street firehall.

He recommended that council deal with cutting out the fire hall with its consequent dismissal of 14 men only as "a last resort."

He wants all other matters in estimates dealt with first.

"Closing of a fire hall is a major matter in city life," the mayor said, in giving grounds for his intervention.

"It may seriously affect property and life and may cause large financial loss through insurance rates."

He said the fire hall was close to two schools. He feels further inquiry in the matter should be made of the fire chief, and the chief questioned by the fire wardens committee if necessary.

He commended the chairman of fire wardens and other members of council in their "determination" to cut expenses as much as possible, but said he felt "not enough consideration was given and more inquiry should have been made."

"In considering the budget it seems to me preferable that abolishing a fire hall with all its consequent hardships and risk should be considered at the end of the budget," Mayor Harrison said.

"If the budget cannot be cut to a figure that is compatible with proper economy, then, and only as a last resort, I feel this question should be dealt with."

Action Automatically Vetoed

No motion was necessary, as the mayor in exercising his powers under the Municipal Act, automatically vetoed that portion of the budget debate until all other estimates had been considered.

If council wishes to wind up estimates today they will likely go into a night session.

The mayor had the firehall question moved to the end of debate so that council "will be apprised of every item that can be eliminated."

He advocated also obtaining a written opinion from the city manager on the whole question.

Fire Chief Frank Briers, in learning of City Councils action in cutting out the firehall Tuesday, wrote immediately protesting the move in the "public interest."

Ald. Waldo Skillings, chairman of the fire wardens' committee which recommended closure and dismissal of 14 men, was not present at the early part of this morning's estimates session. He issued the following statement, however:

Victoria residents are being urged to write and telephone their views on the abolition of Yates Street firehall to the mayor and aldermen by officials of the firemen's union.

They are appealing particularly to those residents of the affected area and those with children in any of the 14 schools covered by the Yates Street station.

"I disagree entirely with the mayor's action in this matter. In making my presentation to council, I did so with one thought in mind: to reduce the provisional mill rate."

"To reduce that rate necessitated reduction in all city services. I felt that with modern, fast equipment we could give satisfactory protection with three fire stations instead of four."

A suggestion attributed to "certain city aldermen" Wednesday that a second firehall—that at Burnside and Douglas—be eliminated, was not raised at today's meeting.

Court Rules Government Can Raise Steel Wages

WASHINGTON, May 1 (AP).—The U.S. Court of Appeals by a 5 to 4 vote refused today to bar the government from raising wages of steel workers while it holds the seized mills.

The vote denying a plea from major steel companies that the court enjoin Commerce Secretary Charles Sawyer from doing anything about wages and working conditions was the same as that by which the court Wednesday night returned the steel plants to government control.

Only a few minutes before the decision was announced Sawyer said he did not intend to take any "precipitate" action about wages.

The government manager of the steel mills said the situation is so fluid that "the employees and I myself, and the operators, too, are at the moment in a revolving door. We are neither coming in nor going out."

Sawyer also called in a statement for:

1. New negotiations by the industry and the steel workers' union looking toward a settlement.

2. Action by Congress to give the government some clear legal basis for dealing with situations such as the steel strike has created.

He said: "We are now facing up to a situation which has long been impending where a titanic struggle between giant industry and giant labor results in a paralysis in which our whole economic and social life may be at stake."

"It is time for Congress to meet that situation calmly, wisely and promptly."

In the steel towns, the mills were closed up tight and union pickets were stationed about them.

However, Sawyer said he did not feel the men were now on strike against the government since their walkout came when U.S. District Judge David Pine ruled on Tuesday that the government seizure was illegal and the mills must be returned to their owners.

The Court of Appeals' action today leaves the government free to work out an agreement with the steel workers.

Ten days ago, Sawyer said the government intended to give the steel workers a pay raise, but there was no decision on the amount.

Midwest Areas Already Hit By Gas Shortage

DENVER, May 1 (AP).—The country-wide strike of nearly 90,000 oil industry employees went into its second day today with shortages of gasoline reported in scattered areas.

Some filling stations in the steel-producing area of Gary, Hammond and East Chicago, Ind., reported they were out of gasoline last night, less than 24 hours after the strike began.

Other stations were expected to run out today. Similar shortages were cropping up elsewhere in the Midwest.

The Oil Workers International Union (C.I.O.) in Denver, representing refinery and pipeline workers and heading a coalition of 22 C.I.O.-A.F.L. and independent oil unions, said "the most promising" negotiations were going on in San Francisco.

Officials said the union in talks with Shell Oil had trimmed its original demand for a 25-cent hourly wage boost to 22 cents and "a lot of other compromises" are being kicked around.

The unions also are asking increased differential pay. They want six instead of four cents for the 4 p.m. to midnight shift and 12 instead of six cents for the midnight to dawn shift.

The average wage in the industry now ranges from $2 to $2.10 hourly.

In Washington, meanwhile, government officials estimated today the U.S. has about a 45-day supply of gasoline. It also estimated there is a 49-day supply of distillate fuel oil (used for house-heating); a 74-day supply of kerosene, and a 26-day supply of residual fuel oil.

Red Marshal Publicly Charges Germ Warfare

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, May 1 (AP).—Premier Stalin, looking much as usual, today reviewed the annual parade of Russian labor and armed might from Lenin's marble tomb and heard one of his marshals publicly accuse the United States of germ warfare in Korea and China.

The 72-year-old Soviet leader walked once on his way up the long flight of steps, waving to Russian spectators and foreign diplomats looking up at him from the sunlit stands.

Then he turned and climbed the rest of the way to the reviewing tribune, closely attended by 50

Reds in Japan Plan Sabotage Orders Reveal

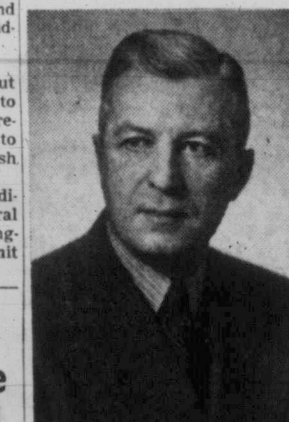

TOKYO, May 1 (Reuters).—The United States army radio here said tonight Tokyo police had intercepted a copy of orders from underground Communist leaders ordering an attack on Japanese factories making munitions for United Nations troops in Korea.

Standing beside Stalin, he said: "In a mockery of international agreements, the American barbarians are carrying out the greatest crime against humanity—making use of bacteriological weapons in Korea and China."

Until now, no Russian marshal had accused the United States of germ warfare, although Moscow newspapers have made the charge repeatedly.

The parade featured the usual impressive line-up of tanks, artillery and rocket launchers. Files of smart foot soldiers tramped past with bands playing.

SASKATCHEWAN SAID NOTHING

Gardiner Produces New Documents On Foot-Mouth Outbreak History

OTTAWA, May 1 (CP).—John Diefenbaker (PC-Lake Centre, Sask.) charged Agriculture Minister Gardiner today with "fooling around" with an order of parliament.

He told the 60-member Commons agricultural committee that a departmental file dealing with foot-and-mouth disease correspondence appeared to be incomplete, even after Mr. Gardiner produced a new batch of papers which the minister admitted should have been inserted in the file.

Even with the new papers, the file showed that there had been no official correspondence between agricultural officials on foot-and-mouth disease between Jan. 4 last and Feb. 23.

"I simply ask the minister," said Mr. Diefenbaker, "to go down into bottom drawers and dig up top-secret documents."

He intended, he said, to charge Mr. Gardiner with "contempt of parliament" unless he obtained assurance that there actually had been no correspondence during that period.

Mr. Gardiner said the documents already made available and those he was making available today included all correspondence on the subject.

He noted that "newspapers mentioned delay in the minister being informed of the outbreak. Dr. J. G. Taggart, his deputy, had said Wednesday that he was informed of the possibility that the disease in south Saskatchewan might be foot-and-mouth on Feb. 2 or 3 but had not informed Mr. Gardiner until Feb. 18. Mr. Gardiner was on the west coast."

He also noted that Dr. Thomas Childs, federal veterinary-general, was absent on holidays for a week during February.

Naturally, he added, there would have been more correspondence between officials if the veterinary director-general had not been away.

But he emphasized that no one had suspected the disease to be more than vesicular stomatitis.

He himself had been out west in February, had passed through the Regina area, and no one told him of any suspicion of foot-and-mouth disease.

There was no reason for him to be more concerned with the disease than with a child who had measles.

As for the date of the first detection on the Leonard Wass farm at McLean, Sask., 28 miles east of Regina, that was in dispute, too. The outbreak was reported Nov. 25 and to federal veterinarians on Dec. 2.

Saskatchewan provincial officials had in fact been informed before federal officials were: Yet the Provincial official, whom Mr. Gardiner identified as "Mr. Johnson," did "absolutely nothing."

"He didn't step out of his office."

Another version of what took place, said Mr. Gardiner, was that Mr. Johnson asked Mr. Wass to get in touch with a local private veterinarian.

"The province didn't do anything at that stage because the provincial officials thought, as we did, that it was stomatitis."

If there was to be any criticism of the handling of the outbreak, it might be that there was "improper diagnosis" when the disease first was detected.

There might be some reason to criticize officials on that basis. But no one official was to blame. The criticism should be levelled just as much on one official as another.

Wednesday opposition and government members of the committee criticized Dr. Taggart and Dr. Childs.

ONE WOMAN'S DAY

By NANCY HODGES

BUILDING BETTER BODIES

WHILE I WAS in Vancouver last week the newspapers carried stories of the apprehending by police of a gang of teen-agers who have been responsible for a series of crimes including car-stealing, breaking into houses and stores, and other equally serious offenses.

And I use the word "crimes" advisedly because I think the time has come to face up to the seriousness of the situation among these young hoodlums and "toughs" instead of minimizing it by cataloguing these offenses under such euphemisms as "mischief."

NEED OUTLET

TO ANY THINKING person it must be obvious that, quite apart from the various other factors which undoubtedly contribute to their delinquency, the growing number of such cases is, in the final analysis, attributable to the natural craving for adventure and high spirits of youth not being directed towards constructive ends.

That is why I am using this column to direct attention to one channel which gives youngsters just such an opportunity to work off their exuberance through a healthy and health-giving outlet. I refer to Pro-Rec, as it was exemplified in the annual display given by the Pro-Rec Centres of Greater Victoria at the Badminton Hall recently.

Several hundred members, in ages ranging from eight to 80, put on a program enjoyed by hundreds of interested spectators—and should have been seen by thousands. I hope the time will come, incidentally, when such a show can be given in the Memorial Arena, for it well merits it by reason of its entertainment value as well as the excellent public service it is rendering.

TIME OF THEIR LIVES

IT WAS ONE of those occasions when I wished for four pairs of eyes instead of one, so much was going on at once. Scores of little tads of eight years and on were tumbling about doing cartwheels and handstands, while other small boys put on a spirited boxing contest in one corner.

Meanwhile, boys of from nine to 14 or thereabouts were bounding about on trampolines, vaulting over horses—and their fellow-gymnasts—swinging on parallel bars and flying rings, and generally having the time of their young lives, while at the same time showing off their physical prowess to Dad and Mum, sisters, cousins and aunts, admiring from the sidelines.

ADVANCED PUPILS

A GROUP OF young men in the more advanced classes put on an amazing exhibition of weight-lifting, pole-vaulting, springboard tumbling, and similar gymnastic feats which called for skilled co-ordination of mind and muscles, their fine physical development attesting to the value of their training.

But it isn't only among the teen-agers that Pro-Rec is doing excellent work. The women's folk and tap dance numbers in costume and the square dancing by both men and women were not only delightful to watch but demonstrated the obvious enjoyment of those who participated.

HOUSEWIVES AND OTHERS

HOUSEWIVES, store clerks, stenographers of all ages, and shapes—were represented in the gaily-dressed groups which dipped and pirouetted in the rhythmic exercises and the folk dances. An equal variation of age—and occupation, too—existed in the groups of men and women who entered with such obvious zest into the lively square dances that demonstrated the popular "hops" held twice weekly at the Crystal Garden and other centres.

As the chairman pointed out, Pro-Rec—which, by the way, is the popular name for the physical education and recreation branch of the Provincial Department of Education—is so designed, that anyone can benefit by its training. What's more, it is free. And its value among teen-agers can be assessed from the fact that in the mining city of Kimberley, B.C., not one case of juvenile delinquency has come up since Pro-Rec was started there.

Appeal Against Robbery Sentence Is Dismissed

Appeal court here Wednesday dismissed the appeal of Arthur V. Milward, 25, Nanaimo, against a five-year penitentiary sentence for robbery.

Sentence was imposed by Nanaimo county court Judge L. Hanna after the accused pleaded guilty to stealing an engagement ring and a small amount of money from a woman.

Evidence at the trial revealed that Milward picked up the woman and her seven-year-old daughter on February 26 on pretext of offering them a lift home in his car.

R. F. MacIsaac, counsel for the accused, said he felt the sentence was too severe and was more in line with sentences given to "Vancouver ruffians."

George Gregory, crown counsel, strongly opposed any reduction in sentence and pointed out that if Milward had been charged with attempted rape, his punishment would have been more severe.

"The court sees no reason to interfere with the sentence," said Chief Justice Gordon McG. Sloan in handing down judgment. "It is a severe sentence, but the circumstances call for a severe sentence."

2 Die in Crash of R.C.A.F. Trainer

TRENTON, Ont., May 1 (CP)—Two occupants of an R.C.A.F. Harvard training airplane were killed Wednesday when the aircraft crashed in a swamp 16 miles northeast of Trenton.

Names of the victims will not be released until next-of-kin have been notified, an air force official said.

The plane crashed in a large swamp known as Percy Reach. The air force reported that a pilot and passenger were in the plane, which was reported overdue late Wednesday.

A 'WALKING DIRECTORY'

Opponents Envy Boss' Unusual Name-Memory

By GORDON FORBES
Times Legislative Reporter

NANAIMO, May 1.—Premier Byron Johnson's political opponents for years have envied his remarkable ability for remembering names.

It is generally agreed in political circles that the premier knows more British Columbians by their first names than any other politician in the province. Proof of this belief has been evident since the premier started his election campaign a few days ago.

"The man is a walking city directory," a friend in Courtenay told reporters.

Whether he walked into a crowded hall where he was going to speak or stopped for gasoline on a lonely road, Premier Johnson would welcome people on a first-name basis.

"Hello, Tommy boy," he would say, always adding the friendly "boy" after a greeting.

Seasoned politicians envy the premier's name remembering ability because they say it's a sure-fire vote-getter. People like it—even modest people like being remembered by a big man.

NO EFFORT NEEDED

But the premier doesn't have to work at this business of remembering names.

"It just comes natural to him," said a friend. "It's quite unbelievable at times."

Addressing an overflow public meeting at Nanaimo Tuesday night, Premier Johnson appeared to be right in there swinging and showed more enthusiasm for the big job than he has since the start of the campaign.

With great forcefulness and gesticulating with clenched fists, the premier started off by telling his audience:

"I'm not going to be talking tonight in generalities. I'm going to be specific. I'm going to review the record of Liberal administration nationally and provincially," he said.

He went right through the years listing progressive legislation enacted by Liberal or Liberal-led governments.

GETS THINGS DONE

"I've made mistakes. Of course I have. But I'd sooner make a few mistakes and get something accomplished than make no mistakes and do nothing. People who try to bring about improvements are bound to make a few mistakes," he said.

Speaking exactly 19 months and a day after receiving a severe injury in a Quebec car accident, Premier Johnson defended hospital insurance and said none of the organizations in B.C. want it removed.

"They appeal to us not to reduce benefits and not to abolish the scheme," said the premier.

He said no province in Canada gives the underprivileged better treatment.

"We have been told we go too far on this sort of thing. But I may remind you that it is Liberal policy to do what is right and proper," he stated.

Premier Johnson spoke highly of Nanaimo Liberal candidate Elmer Bradshaw, and also praised retiring member George Pearson, former Cabinet minister and a member for 24 years.

IMPROVEMENT NEEDED

The premier made no promises, but he said the highway entrances to Nanaimo, narrow and bumpy, "will have to be taken care of."

He explained the province's new secondary road program and said all work done under this plan would be of a permanent nature. The arterial road program would continue, he stressed.

Saanich Council Authorizes $84,000 Public Works Budget

Saanich council has authorized a sum of $84,000 for its public works budget this year.

The money will be used for road improvement, bridge construction and sidewalk making.

A new bridge is planned for Admirals Road where the road passes over Colquitz Creek. It will cost close to $20,000.

The Saanich half of Lansdowne Road will be reconstructed and paved while Saanich Road will be widened and resurfaced.

It is also planned to reconstruct Reynolds Road from Quadra to Cedar Hill Crossroad, Burnside Road from Washington to Harriett and McKenzie from Rainbow to Saanich. Work will also be done on Cadillac Avenue and Interurban Road, if residents of those streets are willing to share the cost.

New sidewalks will be made on Cedar Hill Road from North Dairy to Cedar Hill Crossroad and Admirals Road from Gorge to Cowper.

REDUCTIONS — At Ottawa working hours were reduced from 44 to 40 per week for 245 employees of the National Research Council today. Pay was cut, too.

The council said the new pay scales would be reviewed at least once a year "and adjusted in accordance with . . . those provided by good employers for similar classifications in the area."

HOPEFUL—Film actress Ingrid Bergman said in Rome today she hopes the twin babies she expects in early June "will be girls."

"Of course we will be just as happy if they are boys or a boy and a girl," she said. "We have not chosen any names yet."

She and her husband, Italian film director Roberto Rossellini, have been told by doctors that X-rays taken last Monday indicate that the actress will have twins.

UNIFICATION — At Ottawa Canadian-United States proponents of Atlantic Union believe that unification of the 16 North Atlantic Treaty powers might be started through a consolidation in the spheres of foreign policy and defense.

The belief was expressed Wednesday at a closed meeting of a United States group visiting Ottawa to explore possibilities of Atlantic Union beyond the present military field. The U.S. group met with members of the joint senate-commons external affairs committee.

CRITICAL — George Drew, leader of the Progressive Conservative party, charged that there has been "a complete breakdown in the responsibility of the defense minister over department heads."

Mr. Drew said in an address to the annual meeting of the Ottawa West and South Progressive Conservative Association that the minister must take responsibility for "a situation of widespread looting and fires or it would be the negation of the principle of responsible government."

Reds Reply Tomorrow To New U.N. Proposal

MUNSAN, Korea, May 1 (AP).—Truce negotiators will hold a crucial session tomorrow to hear the Communist reply to the United Nations package proposal for reaching a Korean armistice.

The Reds today asked for the full-dress session after studying the secret Allied plan three days. There was no indication whether the Communists would reject, accept or make a counter-proposal.

Blocking progress in the nearly 10-month-old negotiations were the issues of prisoner exchange, Russian participation in an armistice and rehabilitation of military airfields during an armistice.

The meeting is scheduled for 11 a.m. Friday.

It may be the decisive conference of the lengthy truce talks.

The package proposal is understood to make a sweeping solution to three remaining unsolved problems.

U.S. Strike Hits Royal City Workers

NEW WESTMINSTER, May 1 (CP).—A total of 120 employees of the Canadian Forest Products Pacific veneer plant here were laid off Wednesday as a result of the woodworkers' strike in the United States Pacific Northwest.

The plant supplies the company's Bellingham, Wash., plywood operation with raw material; and the closure of the American factory forced curtailment here.

If the Communists follow their usual conference-table tactics they will come back with a counter-proposal.

The current interruption in the talks is the longest since Oct. 25, when negotiations resumed after a two months' breakdown.

New British Proposals in Egypt Row

LONDON, May 1 (Reuters).—Sir Ralph Stevenson, British ambassador to Egypt, left by air today for Cairo carrying new British proposals for settlement of Britain's row with Egypt over the Sudan.

"These proposals are not necessarily final," he said. "The object of my visit to London was to work out a possible new approach." He said he expected to see Hilaly Pasha, the Egyptian premier, before the weekend.

"Britain is understood to be suggesting a round-table conference of representatives from Britain, Egypt and the Sudan this summer."

The Sudan, formerly jointly administered by Egypt and Britain, was claimed by Egypt last year to be Egyptian territory. Britain says she wants the Sudanese to determine their own future.

DEMAND RECOMPENSE

CAIRO, Egypt, May 1 (Reuters).—Britain today demanded that Egypt pay "adequate compensation" for the loss of British lives and property during the Cairo, Egypt, May 1 (Reuters).

"black Saturday" riots in Cairo, Jan. 26.

The claim for loss of life, personal injuries and loss of property by Britons is expected to total about £2,000,000.

A claim for £200,000 has already been made on behalf of nine Britons killed when rioters set fire to the British Turf Club, and for several others injured in the riots.

One of those killed was J. Macleod Boyer of Victoria, N.B., Canada's trade commissioner to lives and property during the Cairo.

Thomson New C.P. Head Keate Becomes Director

TORONTO, May 1 (CP).—Roy H. Thomson, president of Thomson Dailies, Wednesday was elected president of the Canadian Press, Canada's co-operative news service. He succeeds Hervey Major, news editor of Montreal La Presse, president for the last two years.

Victor Sifton, publisher of the Winnipeg Free Press, and president of C.P. 1948-50, was elected honorary president, succeeding Frederick L. Ker of the Hamilton Spectator.

R. J. Rankin of the Halifax Mail-Star was elected first vice-president, and D. B. Rogers of the Regina Leader-Post, second vice-president.

Directors elected included Stuart Keate, Victoria, Daily Times, and Donald Cromie, Vancouver Sun.

Mr. Thomson, who succeeds to the C.P. presidency after terms as first and second vice-president, got into publishing in 1933 when he bought the weekly Timmins Press. This he converted into a daily and enlarged. Subsequently he acquired other newspapers in Ontario, Saskatchewan, Quebec and British Columbia (Vancouver News-Herald), until his group now numbers 16, including the recently-purchased St. Petersburg Independent in Florida. He also has extensive radio interests.

Canadian Landings Of Sea Fish Jump

OTTAWA, May 1 (CP).—Landings and landed value of sea fish were substantially higher during March and the first three months of this year than in the corresponding periods of 1951, the Bureau of Statistics reported Wednesday.

The month's landings amounted to 45,389,000 pounds valued at $2,066,000 compared with 30,167,000 pounds worth $1,611,000 in March, 1951. First-quarter landings totalled 262,865,000 pounds compared with 210,149,000, with respective values of $7,855,000 and $6,675,000.

The catch on the Atlantic coast increased to 28,136,000 pounds from 20,945,000 a year earlier, bringing the cumulative total for the first three months to 72,798,000 pounds from 57,700,000.

Mainly as the result of a large increase in the herring catch, March landings of fish on the Pacific Coast rose to 17,253,000 pounds from 9,222,000, and in the first quarter to 190,067,000 pounds from 152,449,000.

Higher Pay, Fewer Jobs

THE CITY COUNCIL HAS VIRTUALLY called "End of the line" to Victoria fire-fighters who, this year, have ridden to the highest salary peaks they have reached in history.

The firemen have received a favorable arbitration award granting them increases ranging from a minimum of $33.77 a month upwards. Those increases have caused a redistribution of moneys available to the department. The city will pay the higher wages, according to its decision this week, but it will pay them to fewer men. With so many dollars set aside for pay cheques, Victoria will spend that sum and cut its departmental cloth accordingly.

This is by no means an ideal solution for the problem that has arisen through spiralling wage costs. Fire wardens and other aldermen recognize that fact. In the words of chairman Ald. Waldo Skillings: "Necessity is the governing factor here. We don't think for one minute that there is any surplus of firemen now."

Viewed realistically, the council's course is one of calculated risk. If Victoria avoids serious fires this year, the smaller force will be adequate to meet the emergencies. If large conflagrations occur, the effectiveness of the department will presumably be lowered by the number of men released from the service. No city, of course, can afford a standing department big enough to guarantee complete safety from the biggest of fires.

Obviously a city of this size should have as adequate a fire-fighting force as it can afford. The aldermen appear to be thoroughly aware of that argument. They feel, however, that personnel reduction has been thrust upon them by the climbing wage account. And in the opinion of the wardens' chairman, new equipment and recent redistribution of fire-fighting forces should provide the measure of safety which the citizens are entitled to expect.

There have been other occasions on which certain departments, pressing for wage increases, have been warned that raises could be given only if staffs were reduced. That alternative was presented to the police a few years ago. It was, moreover, reportedly a factor in a recent agreement reached between Vancouver firemen and Vancouver authorities. Heretofore it has been accepted as just so much talk in Victoria. The council's decision Tuesday gives it substance.

The public will sympathize sincerely with firemen who lose jobs through the policy applied by the city hall. At the same time, citizens will recognize in the council's action a parallel course to that applied in private business, where mounting costs—of which wages are a chief factor—are pricing certain industries out of the market. The inexorable application of that economic law is already apparent in the private homebuilding field and may be further extended.

The issue has been thrown back into the hands of the firemen's union. Unless the council changes its mind, the union must determine whether it is better off, as a union, in acquiring higher pay for fewer members, or in maintaining the jobs of all those who have paid dues. That is not an easy decision for the union. Neither was the decision reached by the council easy for the aldermen.

Eisenhower's Successor

BY EVERY MILITARY QUALIFICATION Field Marshal Montgomery should have succeeded General Eisenhower as the North Atlantic Treaty commander in Europe. The appointment, however, was not military but political. It was essential, for sound reasons of politics, that an American commander should command the projected European army and its British and Canadian allies.

The reasons for this are political in the broadest sense, but not partisan. They have nothing to do with any political party but they are decisive. It is essential that an American commander should proclaim, beyond all doubt that the United States is in Europe, with its armed forces, to stay. If a British commander even as pre-eminent in the arts of war as Montgomery had succeeded Eisenhower, if the United States had agreed to such an appointment, the confidence of European peoples in the United States' determination to defend Europe would have been undermined. Moreover, the presence of a leading American is necessary to maintain the undivided support of the American people for the nation's foreign policy and to satisfy Congress that its foreign aid is not being wasted by foreigners.

This may not make much sense in a purely military calculation but N.A.T.O. is not basically a military but a political institution. It represents not merely the attempt of the free peoples to defend themselves if necessary but to unify themselves politically, economically and spiritually. And in this unity the United States, by its power, must be the leader. Without its fullest support the whole project, and the hope of maintaining peace, must collapse.

Fortunately in General Ridgway the allies have found a soldier of unquestioned capacity, as proved in the Korean war, and, moreover, a statesman who has learned to work with the leaders of other nations. His major task in Europe will be to combine the energies of the various partner states and continue the work which Eisenhower has so brilliantly begun.

It is to be hoped that he can retain the unequalled military talents of Montgomery, Eisenhower's wartime strategist and friend. If, as a result of these changes, Eisenhower becomes President of the United States Europe need have no doubt of American support and the world no misunderstanding of American foreign policy.

Not Hard to Decide

COLUMNIST JACK SCOTT, WHOSE writings are syndicated to several Canadian newspapers, has been worrying in print about Dr. James G. Endicott, Dr. Endicott, it will be recalled, is the earnest seeker after world peace who spends his time abroad telling other nations what a rotten lot Canadians are.

In Russia he told the people that Canada was preparing for aggressive war. What he, unfortunately a Canadian, hopes to gain by vilifying his own country, it is difficult to see. Perhaps a commissarship at some distant future date, perhaps a Soviet Hero medal, perhaps merely the smug satisfaction that mean minds derive from spoiling something good.

At any rate, Dr. Endicott's reports from Red China have Mr. Scott worrying. The traveler-fellow as well as otherwise—sends back word that everything is rosy under the Communist regime. There have been no executions, says the doctor, denying the Chinese government's own reports of thousands of political murders. Catholic nuns worked Chinese orphans 11 and 18 hours a day, he says, with the result that 23,403 out of 25,670 died. Red China presents, he asserts, "the most striking educational campaign for moral reform the world has ever seen."

Mr. Scott contrasts these statements to the versions that have appeared in the press and periodicals. And he finds himself unable to solve the "riddle."

We suggest that one method of solution would be to read what Dr. Endicott says about Canada—how he told the Russians we are an armed menace to them, how he told the Chinese, according to Radio Moscow, that Canada provided germs for the United States Air Force to drop on helpless Koreans and Chinese, that the U.S. is spreading anthrax, typhoid and cholera in China.

Let Mr. Scott check such charges with the facts—and then decide that Dr. Endicott is probably as wrong about China as he is about Canada and her ally.

Encouraging Musical Talents

COMPETITIVE SELECTIONS BY school children today marked the opening of Victoria's third musical festival since that event was revived in this community. During the next few days vocalists, instrumentalists, elocutionists and dancers will add their contributions to a varied program calculated to advance the cultural and entertainment standards of the city.

While the festival aim is expressed in the familiar quotation stating "the object is not to gain a prize or defeat a rival, but to pace one another on the road to excellence," a substantial measure of competition will be in evidence.

The festival is not now, as it was once alleged to be, a musical pot-hunt for the talented citizens, old and young, of this district. There will, nevertheless, be substantial rewards in the form of bursaries for those who are outstanding in specific classes. That, in itself, should encourage the entries toward higher standards and should help each of them "on the road to excellence."

Moreover, although test pieces have been set for the contestants, some choice has been allowed in the selections which entrants may present as their second numbers. By that means variety will be added to the programs.

The experience of the last two festivals has proved the advantages of the arrangements now made for these competitions. Interest has been revived and sustained. The continuing programs that started today should assist still further in stimulating musical appreciation here and in spurring participants toward the goal of better performances.

Rainbow Rain

IT LOOKS AS THOUGH THE OLD advertising slogan of "none genuine without this trade mark" is going to be applied to rain. A Japanese rain maker, irked that his customers claimed it would have rained anyway without his exertions, announces that hereafter he will dye his product so there can be no mistake.

The prospects are, therefore, that red, green, blue and other shades of rain may fall upon Nippon before long, proof that the rain-maker has had a hand in causing it. In this way he hopes to certify his claim to payment for service rendered.

Prospects are that he will need all the ready cash he can obtain. For when housewives with lines full of washing, pedestrians in white tropical suits, residents with freshly-painted houses and gardeners with plots of prize roses—when these irate persons have finished with their law suits for ruination through tinted rain, the colorful assistant to Jupiter Pluvius-san may find the profits disappointingly small.

LOOSE ENDS

This Is Democracy

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

BY raising the ante of the political poker game the older parties have forced the Universal No-Party Party (U.N.P.P.) to revise its election platform.

As Admiral Bingle, founder of the U.N.P.P., observed at last week's emergency convention, "we can't jolly well let the other fellows out-promise us." Accordingly, to make sure that the U.N.P.P. offers the voters more than any other party, a truly enlightened policy was evolved. Not only will all hospital insurance premiums be abolished but Hutchison a U.N.P.P. government will pay a daily subsidy to everyone who goes to hospital.

THIS plan was devised with moderation, on a sound and businesslike basis. The subsidies to persons entering hospital will be moderate, equaling only the cost of hospital service. That is to say, if it costs a hospital $10 a day to treat a patient he will be paid that amount only and his stay in hospital, with this subsidy, will be limited to some months or years, as the government may decide after the election.

"We don't intend," said Admiral Bingle, with that home-spun honesty which has marked his meteoric rise in politics, "to give the treasury away. We don't intend to offer false promises. We would rather be defeated than break the provincial treasury."

POLITICAL honesty, the convention agreed, must be the keystone of the U.N.P.P. platform. "In the old days," the admiral remarked, "political parties used to take campaign funds from powerful interests. That was rank political dishonesty. We refuse to accept such funds and don't need them. We shall bribe the public with its own money and thus we shall be under obligation to nobody. That's what I call political honesty. If we are candid and honest and the public knows what it is doing when it elects us, no one can complain afterwards. So far as I am concerned, I shall never be a party to deception. We leave that to the other parties."

UNFORTUNATELY, not all the members of the U.N.P.P. are as honest as Admiral Bingle. All parties contain their less-respectable elements. It was regrettable but not surprising, therefore, that a powerful group led by Mr. Daniel Snape proposed that the platform disguise the cost of the new subsidies to hospital patients by promising that in fact it would cost the taxpayers nothing.

Admiral Bingle thought this might be dishonest but he was reassured by Mr. Snape that such was the process of democracy. If a majority of the party agreed to any policy then, of course, it must be right or otherwise, said Mr. Snape, what was the use of democracy? If Admiral Bingle refused to accept the will of the majority he was indicting democracy itself.

THE admiral accepted finally this unanswerable logic and Mr. Snape added a striking political dictum: "Other parties may try to make all their followers agree with the party policy. As the only truly democratic party in this election we refuse to coerce anybody. Everybody can believe what he likes. That, sir, is true democracy."

When the admiral asked doubtfully what policy the party would enforce when it was elected to office on June 12 (which he considered certain) Mr. Snape wisely replied that the future could look after itself. He had no doubt that the U.N.P.P. members, once elected, would devise a policy of some sort on a sound democratic basis. "The voters," he said, "must take us on trust. If we doubt their willingness to trust us we are questioning our own honesty and insulting the public intelligence. Let the other parties try to appease and conciliate the electorate. We will stand on our honor and our hospital subsidies."

FOR the same reasons it was decided not to appoint a party leader before the election. As Mr. Snape explained, the public was bound to be prejudiced against any man for one reason or another, since all of them had some disabilities. But if there were no leader there would be no target for the enemy to shoot at.

As far as Mr. Snape was concerned, he said with admirable candor, he had no desire for the leadership, no ambition whatever, provided he could control the party. He was absolutely loyal to Admiral Bingle, the Founder, as everybody knew, provided, of course, that the admiral did what he was told. Nothing surely could be fairer or more honest than that.

IN a voice shaking with emotion, and the suspicion of moisture in his eyes, Admiral Bingle thanked Mr. Snape for his devotion, while the admiral had never doubted, while he and Mr. Snape might disagree on certain minor details like the hospital subsidies they were united by a greater principle, the principle of democracy and moreover, as Admiral Bingle intimated in a happy phrase, "We have taken the best parts of all the other parties' platforms, we have a more generous hospital scheme than the Liberals, we shall institute more rigorous economies than the Conservatives, we have promised more than the C.C.F., and we have out-smarted the Social Credit people by refusing to appoint a leader and, in short, we now have everything, including political honesty."

"That," Mr. Snape generously agreed, "is democracy. Now all we need is votes. And in this great growing and booming province, ruined by bad government, there should be plenty of votes to go around."

As Our Readers See It

COST OF GOVERNMENT

There was a by-election in Esquimalt which was lost by the government.

I fail to see any provision in the attached (the new Liberal Party platform) for cutting down the cost of government.

It seems to me it is time the reckless spending of the taxpayers' money was stopped.

RED HERRING?

Victoria's beauty spot, View Royal, so like England and with quite a naval taint to it, is "not fit to live in" and would need $1,500,000 to make it bearable, according to F. H. Heidner.

Don't be fooled, folks, his business proposition is only a carefully cooked red herring, to conceal more subtle international activity.

The greatest menace today is money, not the atom bomb which leaves the soul unburnt.

"A GRAIN OF SALT."

HELMET VS. CAP

At the commencement of the First World War, when most people were ridiculing the "Tin Hats," which the German infantry wore, I wrote to the Department of National Defense in Ottawa, pointing out to them that we were sending our soldiers into action with the most vulnerable portion of their bodies exposed, namely the head.

Whether my letter had any influence on the matter I cannot say; but shortly after writing it, the troops were dishd out with a steel helmet which, although easily carried on the back when not in use, is inadequate as it only protects the top of the head.

The other day I was speaking with a policeman and I asked him how he liked exchanging the protecting helmet for a soft cap and he remarked, in the words of a true soldier: "Our's not to reason why; our's but to do and die."

The English helmet was light and strongly built, also partially waterproof. It gave protection to the eyes and other facial features as well as the nape of the neck. I note that the Chief of Police in Victoria agrees with these statements.

I think that one of the most foolish things our last civic council did was to abolish the English helmet, which has stood the test of time, and to send these brave men, who risk continual danger in order to protect our lives and property, into perilous situations with their heads unguarded.

DONORS THANKED

As chairman of the blood transfusion committee of the Victoria City and District Branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society, I should like to take this opportunity, through your kind offices, of thanking the many blood donors who have joined so wholeheartedly in making the four-day blood clinic just completed so successful.

Out of the kindness of their hearts, countless individuals, throughout the year, volunteer to donate a pint of blood which they know will be used to save

And Nothing Can Be Done About It: BY H. T. WEBSTER

Controversial

WATERSHED LOGGING

It would appear from the correspondence of Mr. J. B. Adams and Mr. M. P. Duggan that they are ignorant of the practice of sustained-yield logging on a watershed and are appealing to sentimental reasons in opposing the forest management plan on the Sooke and Goldstream watersheds, rather than on sound practical judgment and economic desirability of the scheme and no amount of argument will change their opinions.

As seeing is believing, the only way by which they would be influenced is for them to visit say either Seattle or Bremerton and see for themselves how the scheme is operated. The writer feels confident that they would return greatly enriched in knowledge in spite of the claims by some that they know everything there is to know about timber and logging.

The Water Superintendent, Mr. Roy Morse, in Seattle, expressed his willingness to the writer to show any representative body of Victoria citizens over the Cedar River watershed if they desired to make the trip at a pre-arranged date.

SEPARATE SCHOOLS

I was glad to see in the Times, space for a free expression of views re The Separate School problem. This is as it should be—freedom of the press, freedom of speech and freedom of religion.

There can be no objection to the Catholic Church having their own schools but we think it unfair to expect people of other faiths to help support them.

Have not the other denominations as much right to separate schools as the Catholic Church? For instance, there are tens of thousands of Jews in Canada. Have they not as much right to separate schools to teach their doctrine?

Thousands of Catholic parents in Canada prefer to send their children to the public schools. There must be a reason for this.

The public school is provided for all regardless of race, color or religion, and should be sufficient. The various other churches give the children religious instruction on the Lord's Day through the Sunday School—why cannot the Catholic church do the same on that day, which is set apart for worship for all who are thus inclined?

I do not think any parent should be dictated to as to where they should send their children to school. We are free will agents and should have that right.

J. W. COOPER

Bartlett Street.

GOVERNMENT SUPPORT

I see by news from Vancouver that Liberal Party leaders have had some discussion relative to separate schools.

As a taxpayer I strongly object to giving assistance to separate schools of Roman Catholic or any other religion, seeing that the province—the country—provides adequate facilities for education for everyone. If our day schools are not good enough for Roman Catholics, then let them provide for their own schools, including bus transportation.

If we started that game then every other religion would have the same right to the same support.

I care not if they are R.C.'s, Protestants, Hindus (and Hindus are taxpayers, too), or what have you, if they are not willing to take advantage of the educational facilities provided free for everybody that is their fault; then it is only just that they should provide for their own.

The city provides a public library which we are all entitled to use; if I wish to have a private (separate) library for myself, would it be right to ask the city to pay for it?

As a taxpayer I again protest against the government being compelled to support so many schools unnecessarily.

I realize that in supporting Roman Catholic schools it is not just the education of the children, but is simply a question of being asked to support the Roman Catholic religion.

W. FYFE

1835 Holland Avenue.

Ups and Downs

By BRIAN TOBIN

"SOMETIMES," said the Elevator Man, "it takes quite a while for the wheel to go full cycle. It may be years after you pull the trigger that the final echoes of the explosion rumble away. The stone may be forgotten long before the last ripple on the pool has touched shore. You never know when you're setting in motion a train of cause and effect that may long outlast you, in fact may go on forever. It's a great argument in favor of skipping the mean acts, and trying to double up on the good ones, if only out of self-interest. For there's often a boomerang attachment on what we do. There's a kick-back from the gun, a splash from the falling stone that can make you an involuntary taker as well as a disher-out. Life can be stormy, and too many of us empty our buckets to windward. Going up!"

"Take," said the Elevator Man, "that fella down in California the other day. He turned up at a hospital with a bobcat bite on his foot. It was a case of long-delayed revenge. Ten years ago the fella shot the bobcat, and made it into a rug. Last Tuesday he was walking barefoot around the house, stepped on the rug—and the cat's teeth closed on his foot. I don't suppose many bobcats have that much patience and stamina—but it's worth keeping in mind. It's never too late to put your foot in it. Lower main!"

"Of course," said the Elevator Man, "all the bad luck isn't necessarily unexpected. Some folks are so foolish you can just see them heading for trouble. With others it's more carefully thought out. So you get situations like the one where the fella said to a farmer, 'I hear you had an accident with your car last Saturday and had to collect from the insurance company. Did it do much damage?' The farmer looked around furtively. 'Not so loud,' he whispered. 'Not last Saturday. Next Saturday!'"

REPUBLICANS ON WARPATH

Irish Villages Being Searched for Weapons

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, May 1 (Reuters).—Police are combing the picturesque villages of County Tyrone for hidden arms in view of renewed threats of violence from the outlawed Irish Republican Army.

Whisperings of fresh uprisings—and one show of force by this anti-partitionist organization—have put the Northern Ireland government on the alert.

Though the army has been banned since the early 1920's when it threw the Irish Free State into civil war—it has never stopped secret recruiting.

The army's latest exploit came last Easter Sunday in the village of Pomeroy. Details are just becoming known. A party of I.R.A. men marched into Pomeroy—a pro-nationalist area and cut off the village. Telephone wires were slashed and roads guarded. While the village slept the band assembled on a hillside, planted the Irish tricolor and listened to a proclamation declaring a new war against Britain in Northern Ireland.

A man who appeared to be the patrol leader read the proclamation:

Melrose to Speak On Salvador at Library Conference

George Melrose, provincial deputy minister of lands, will speak on "Salvador" at a banquet in Monterey Monday night to mark close of the 41st conference of the British Columbia Library Association.

The conference will open at the Victoria Public Library, Sunday evening, when members will hear a round-up of plans for library development in the British Columbia and the United States Pacific Northwest. Business sessions will be held all day Monday.

Fisheries Resources Enquiry Urged

VANCOUVER, May 1 (CP).—Lumberman H. R. Macmillan Wednesday urged a public inquiry by the Canadian department of fisheries as a means of boosting the province's fish resources. He spoke at a banquet of the Fisheries Council of Canada, and said such an inquiry would do for B.C. fisheries what a royal commission on forests did for the lumber industry.

He said such an inquiry, at which evidence would be taken at various points in B.C., would educate the public and strengthen the hand of the fisheries department in acquiring greater appropriations for its work. Mr. Macmillan said the forests is to help them get bigger appropriations to increase the productivity of Canada," he said.

B.C. MAINLAND SPOTTERS 'SEE' FLYING THINGS

No Comment by Air Force Men

VANCOUVER, May 1 (CP)—This year's flying saucer fever now has infected British Columbia. But the R.C.A.F. has refused to comment on the situation.

Solid, reliable citizens of Hammond, a community 30 miles east of here, reported Wednesday they have seen queer things whizzing through night skies of the Fraser Valley for the last six weeks.

NOT IN NATURE

The "things" don't answer to descriptions of natural phenomena or conventional aircraft.

Four men on two occasions saw "lights," which were seen later by two of the four separately.

A Hammond post office worker saw a "saucer" in daylight.

A woman reported she saw a "mass of tiny lights, changing shape in the sky." A Vancouver schoolboy saw eight "saucers."

The "Hammond lights" were not planes, meteorites or searchlight reflections, these persons maintain.

Hank Harms, wartime R.C.A.F. tail gunner who did one tour of operations over Europe, said he first spotted a "light" March 14.

LOOKED LIKE STAR

"Just before midnight I saw what seemed to be a star moving toward me from the south about 45 degrees off the horizon."

"The sky was clear. It was as large as a silvery white star, except that it shimmered. Height, size and speed I couldn't tell. It flashed out of sight and about a minute later it came back traveling west on the same course, slightly higher."

"Then it made a sharp right turn away from me and headed south toward the horizon. It was in sight for a total of about four minutes and made no sound."

Winch Scores Liberals, Tories

Both Parties 'Sold You Down the River,' C.C.F. Leader Charges Before Party Meet

COURTENAY, May 1—C.C.F. Leader Harold Winch Wednesday night charged Premier Byron Johnson with telling the Legislature the government had no mandate to carry on, then bringing in a huge budget, an appropriation bill, and a $3,000,000 bill for a Vancouver-Squamish road.

"You were sold down the river by the Liberals and Progressive Conservatives," he said at a meeting in support of William Moore, C.C.F. candidate for Comox.

"That road can't be built for $3,000,000 even if we wanted it," Mr. Winch asserted. "I talked with engineers in Victoria and they estimated the cost at $9,000,000. And in any case we are more interested in the completion of the P.G.E. Railway into Vancouver... the people of this province have $132,000,000 invested in that railway."

"We must repudiate this government tendency of executive cabinet action by electing a C.C.F. government which will give the people more returns from the natural resources and stop putting money into the hands of a few monopolistic corporations."

GOING TO BE CHANGED

Mr. Winch said the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co. of Canada, Ltd. has assets of $193,000,000; had an earned surplus of $120,056,847 last year, and a net profit of $50,785,381. "And all this on a $16,381,645 capital investment."

"Yet, the mining tax to be collected this year from all the mines in B.C. is estimated at $1,400,000. It costs the government $824,000 to run the department of mines leaving a mere $575,847 to go towards running British Columbia's business."

The C.C.F. says that this is going to be changed, he said. It is not going to put this company or the big lumber corporations out of business, and not going to discourage them.

"But we are going to see to it that the people of this province become the rightful partners in the development of this natural wealth."

DIVORCE STOPPED G.I.'S IDEA OF GRASS HUT NATIVE IDYLL

OAKLAND, Calif., May 1 (AP)—A woman told a judge Wednesday her former navy husband not only lived with a native woman in a grass shack in the South Pacific—but he wanted her to move in with them.

In filing suit in superior court for a divorce, Mrs. Rose Mary Dunlap, 25, said:

She wed Murlin Dunlap, 26, May 26, 1951, in Reno. They separated four months later after he told her he had lived for two years with a native on the island of Koror in the Western Carolines. That was while he was in the navy.

Before the separation, the Dunlaps visit Koror. There she was introduced to his island sweetheart. There he suggested all three could live in the grass shack. Her divorce charged fraud.

MEETING FIRE WITH FIRE

Demure Girls to Entice Sailors

MIDDLESBROUGH, England, May 1 (CP)—British tars who have been going from the deep blue sea to the devil are in the middle of a pretty kettle of flesh today—50 church-going beauties against the painted dolls of the waterfront.

Rev. Cyril Kettle organized the church girls, ready for the call to swarm over the dockside area and flaunt their charms against ladies of ill-repute who try to entice lonely sailors on leave.

Kettle said the temptations of the tars have been a longtime problem and a losing fight up to now—until he thought of fighting fire with fire and women with women.

He chose 50 fresh-faced lassies—"all full-blooded and good Christians"—and is certain that the sailors will walk disdainfully past the heavily-painted girls in high-heeled shoes.

"My girls make them look as flat as last night's beer," he boasted. "They are the sort of girls a sailor's mother would like, but they're not hot gossips."

who will try to ram religion down the chaps' throats."

Kettle says he understands the sailor's problem—"any normal man likes women, and a sailor who has been at sea for months desperately needs a girl's company. I mean to see he meets the right type of girl."

After the enticing is done, the sailors will be steered to a mission for seamen that Kettle runs—"in the mission they'll be able to dance with them, play table tennis, talk and have meals with them."

Mortgage Men Scan Housing

TORONTO, May 1 (CP).—Higher prices, higher taxes and higher monthly payments were cited today as causes for a drop in house-building by the annual report of the Dominion Mortgage and Investments Association.

The report said attention has been focussed "on the tightness of mortgage money" as a reason for the let-down. However:

"Fewer people are able or willing to purchase houses at present prices. Builders are more cautious in undertaking large projects. More completed houses remain unsold, even though fewer houses are being completed."

Westinghouse to Float Big Loan

TORONTO, May 1 (CP).—An issue of $20,000,000 Canadian Westinghouse Co. Ltd., 4½ per cent sinking fund debentures, due March 15, 1969, has been sold privately to a group of investing institutions in Canada and the United States.

The sale was made by A. E. Ames & Co. Ltd., and First Boston Corporation as agents for Canadian Westinghouse.

It is the first time that the company has raised funds by way of an offering of bonds or debentures. Proceeds will be used for general corporate purposes including reimbursement of expenditures incurred in an expansion program started in early 1951, mostly in Hamilton.

Canada Shippers Follow Wheat Marketing Talks

By BURKE CAHILL, Times Business Editor

The international wheat agreement still has 15 months to run but the council is meeting to discuss its extension.

The agreement, signed in March, 1949, fixed the quantities that the exporting countries guaranteed to sell at the maximum price (U.S. $1.80 a bushel).

It also set the amount of wheat which importing countries guaranteed to buy at the minimum price which in the first season was $1.40 a bushel and has since dropped to $1.30 a bushel.

The structure of the agreement—its form as a multi-lateral contract—will probably stand. But there will be some hard bargaining on prices.

Mining and western oil development will not benefit much from the new budget although special taxation benefits in this field of Canadian endeavor granted earlier are continued.

Mining operators get one break through the easing of tariffs on mining dredges and parts.

The mining industry had sought an extension of privilege of writing off oil exploration expenses which are now enjoyed by oil exploration firms. But no reference to this was made in the new budget except for "various technical amendments of lesser importance" mentioned by Mr. Abbott.

The agreement has worked, despite the Korean commodity boom, for importing countries have been able to get their wheat quotas at no more than the maximum price. The importers have gained.

The exporting countries, however, may not feel so happy about the deal. Ever since the agreement has been in force, the world price of wheat has pressed hard against the ceiling set by the council, except for a few weeks in September, 1950. The "free" market price of wheat has always been above the ceiling at which Canada and other exporters are bound to sell.

Some traders may prefer to take a loss in price in order to have a certain market for their wheat. But they would not want too great a spread between fixed and market prices.

For Canada, a new aspect enters into the agreement this year for the prices are set in U.S. dollars. Over the full length of the agreement the difference in the exchange rates will have an important effect on the total revenue from wheat.

Moreover, this year Canada will have to fill in with wheat supplies in greater measure than previously, mainly because of the drop in Australia's contribution.

The current talks on world wheat marketing problems are likely to be lengthy. Few countries want the international agreement to lapse but most of them want it amended in one way or another.

IT'S MY VIEW

By BILL WALKER, Sports Editor

The crazy sports whirl continues. One day you're in Saskatoon for the Pacific Coast Hockey League finals and it's 82 degrees. It's T-shirt weather and topcoats are an extra commodity at the arena that night.

The next moment you're back in Victoria for the opening of the Western International Baseball League with the surprising Tyees leading the pack and all primed up for the home opener.

It's colder than a witch's heart in the stands, but 3,000 hardy and possibly fool-hardy fans are on hand to see what wonders Cee Garriott has worked with his hustling band of youngsters.

There can be no last-minute cancellation to this one—the opening game. Tickets have gone like hotcakes and despite a bone-chilling rain-spraying easterly wind, it's brrrr-baseball time again.

The drizzle turns into full-fledged raindrops about the fourth inning while the players plunge their hands into vats of hot water between innings in the Tyees dugout. The fans sit still, daring not to move for fear they'll lose the bit of warmth they have gathered from their neighbor, or out of their hip pockets.

You can't tell much from the decision. It's the survival of the fittest and the hot-water treatment pays off for the Tyees, a hard-running and bustling club with Garriott pulling the switches.

There's Depth in Infield Talent

But it's an odd sight, too, when it's realized that, at shortstop is a will o' the wisp named Granny Gladstone who was good enough for outfield duty in the Pacific Coast League last year. And in right field is John Treece, the best third baseman in United States semi-pro ranks last year. And sitting on the bench is Jim Clark, the spidery shortstop, who can't get his old job back because of Gladstone.

It all adds up to infield depth for the Tyees. Chuck Abernathy, who could make Vancouver's Bob Brown look bad with a good year, possibly being the prize acquisition of the grapefruit trading season at first.

Luther Brannan, who they say can really scamper, at second; Gladstone at short with his rifle arm and Don Pries, the "I'll never quit, though I may get picked off base" guy, the brightest fixture from last year's club at third. Pries got picked off second Tuesday when according to one report caused Garriott to say, "that's the way to nip those rallies."

Everybody Gets the Lecture Free

You only have to talk to the players to find out the feeling they have for Garriott. The comments can be boiled down to a few words: "He's a good manager. If he's got something to say to a certain player, he says it to the team as a whole."

So the Tyees are home with potential power in their make-up and a town that's just busting to cheer a baseball winner.

And here's what is said Garriott thinks of those who want the mint before they'll don a uniform. "If they're on the way up, they don't worry about salary. It's the guys at the end of the road, who'll try and get all they can."

What's the matter with Norm Baker and Arnold Ferguson? Is it pride? or what? ... Already 2,500 season tickets, 200 more than last year, have been sold to Shamrock home games this year which augurs well for a financial success once more. ... But don't take Vancouver clubs too lightly. ... they're out to burst the Irish bubble. ... And a happy thought: they're even going to buy some new recordings for the ball games this year. ... Congratulations to Ron McLeod on his Jasper Golf Club appointment and to Laurie Carroll, Oak Bay's new assistant pro. ...

This is not a quotable quote, but before manager Ralph Baker said: "It's off the record," he asserted "the team looks like a world beater except for one position—defense." ... the line of Whitey Severson, Archie Browning and Larry Booth is. ... well, Ralph doesn't want it mentioned that's all, but his eyes lit up when he spoke of the trio. ... Staffer Bill Holland leaves today for St. Johns, Quebec, and a uniform in the Royal Canadian Air Force. ... Bob Frampton of the Cougars said before he left for home that it isn't likely he'll be back next year. ... Bob would like to get his amateur card back and play in the east. ... he lives in a Montreal suburb. ... Wait. Atanas also says he's through with pro hockey after 10 years.

Learn a fact dept: The all-time tenpin bowling high for a team is 3,797 rolled by the St. Louis Hermann Undertakers on Jan. 27, 1937. ... Second high of 3,754 was rolled this year by the Faber Cement Block team of Teaneck, New Jersey. ... here are the scores, read 'em and weep: 825, 768, 696, 722 and 743. ... game totals were 1,270, 1,227 and 1,257. ...

And can you imagine this: Salem's manager Hugh Luby called Patterson Monday asking for "help." ... How times have changed and in only one week. ... A splendid idea it is. ... they're going to have Red McMillan face off the first ball in the boxla opener here May 14. ... Red is still in hospital in Duncan.

LEAVE COAST LEAGUE CELLAR

Rainiers Show Signs Of Becoming Unstuck

After a dismal start, Seattle, triple and another on a homer George Vico also homered with Pacific Coast League champion, is showing signs of power.

Bill Sweeney's Rainiers have tied into Los Angeles, a club of proven strength, and come up with two impressive wins. The boys from Washington took the series opener from the Angels 1-0 in a pitching duel Tuesday and came back Wednesday night to blast five pitchers for 15 hits and a 15-6 decision.

The twin victories pulled Seattle out of the cellar into seventh place, 6½ games behind the leading San Diego Padres and only 4½ astern of second-place Hollywood.

Wednesday night's trouncing, their sixth loss in seven games, dropped the Angels from second to third in the standings.

At Lyons was the most murderous of the rampaging Rainiers, accounting for six runs, three of them on a bases-full triple and another on a homer George Vico also homered with Pacific Coast League champion, is showing signs of power.

Kentucky Derby To Be Broadcast

Radio Station CJVI will carry the broadcast of the 78th running of the Kentucky Derby from Churchill Downs in Louisville, Kentucky, Saturday at 2:15.

Mel Allen and other popular sportscasters will handle the airing of the world famous racing classic.

KENTUCKY DERBY'S HEARTBREAK HIGHWAY

Where Big Bim Tried So Hard But Failed

LOUISVILLE, Kentucky, May 1 (BUP)—There's a racing adage—superstition, perhaps—that great horses have great names. A horse with a cheap-sounding name usually runs to match it, the saying goes.

The rule isn't iron-clad, of course. Some horses with weird names are champions. Some with noble names run like spavined mules. But there is something to it. ... Read down the long list of thoroughbreds who have won the 77 runnings of the Kentucky derby. The names resound like a roll of drums: "Aristides," "Air-iss-tighd-eez," "Donerail," "Black Gold," "Twenty Grand," "Bold Venture," "Citation" and "Count Turf."

Every name brings a thousand memories, each a vivid page in the history of America's greatest single sporting event, the Kentucky derby.

There are many great horse races, but there is only one which makes a whole nation stop to look or listen for 30 minutes every year. ... only one for which thousands travel many miles, endure over-crowded hotels and outrageous prices. That's the Kentucky derby—to be run for the 78th consecutive year at Churchill Downs in Louisville Saturday afternoon.

It isn't just glamour and tradition that make the derby a sport-ing classic, however; nor is it just the race itself, although the sight of 15 or 20 sleek thoroughbreds running their hearts out for a cool $100,000 and a blanket of red roses is a stirring spectacle. Add also the fact that every derby has its story behind the story. ...

sometimes a rag-to-riches fable; sometimes a tale of a prize that was so close at hand, but never grasped.

One of the great figures in derby history was Col. E. R. Bradley. From his Idle Hour Farm came four derby winners—more than any other owner until Calumet Farm matched that record in the 1940's.

Col. Bradley was a gambler by nature and by profession. But he also loved horses for themselves. He gave them all names starting with the letter "B"—such as his four derby winners—Behave Yourself, Bubbling Over, Brokers Tip and Burgoon King.

The horse he loved most of all was Bimelech. A great champion as a two-year-old, Bimelech seemed destined to bring Col. Bradley his heart's desire—a fifth derby victory. The 82-year-old Bradley had been a sick man, confined to his bed. But this great chestnut colt roused the dying man. ... brought him fighting back from the brink of death, in hope of living to see his colors once more in the winner's circle at Churchill Downs.

Bimelech went to the post an odds-on favorite. There seemed little chance he could lose.

Many things can happen to a horse in that gruelling mile and a quarter of the Kentucky derby, and they happened to Bimelech.

He broke on top—but ran wide on the first turn and had to make up the lost ground. He fought back into the lead, then beat off challenges by Roman and Dit-

Big Bim was on top as they turned for home—out of the setting sun and into the home stretch that is known as heart-break highway. Here it was that Bimelech blew his chance.

Up on the inside, through the hole left by Bimelech, came a 35 to one shot named Gallahadion, his hooves pounding out a challenge to the leader. Bimelech tried to answer, but he had run himself out, running wide, covering more ground than the others. Gallahadion pulled even, pulled away ... and won by a length and a half.

Although Col. Bradley lived on for six years, a little of him must have died that afternoon in May, 1940, when his pet and pride tried so hard but failed ... in the Kentucky derby.

JOSEPH SIGNS WITH INDIANS

Consistently one of the top goalies in the Inter-city Lacrosse League, Stan Joseph, has finally come out of hiding and signed with Clary Jenon's North Shore Indians for the 1932 season.

Joseph had been sought by several teams but had declined to commit himself until this week. Jenon announced that second string goalie Vic Grover would be free to transfer to New Westminster Salmonacs as he wished.

Correction in Soccer Dates

LONDON, May 1 (Reuters)—Two of Britain's top soccer teams will play exhibition matches in Toronto June 14 and in New York June 15.

Manchester United, winners of the first division of the English League this season, sailed Wednesday for a North American tour. A classy London club, Tottenham Hotspur, leaves next month to meet them in the two exhibition matches.

It was erroneously reported Wednesday that the games will be played in May, instead of June.

Ballplayer's Idea of Heaven

Victoria Tyees, with the aid of the weatherman, got an unscheduled holiday Wednesday night as wet grounds forced postponement of their game with Wenatchee Chiefs. First to take advantage of the break was little left-handed pitcher Jehosie Heard who counted up some extra sack time to make up for all the sleep he lost on the trip to Victoria. Weather permitting, Tyees open a four-game set with Yakima at Athletic Park tonight.

BIG MAY FLOWER

Marcucci Here To Join Tyees

The last of Victoria's April showers Wednesday washed out the scheduled game between Victoria Tyees and Wenatchee Chiefs but brought a big May flower in the person of catcher Lilio Marcucci, who checked into town on option from Portland Beavers.

Marcucci had been expected earlier in the week but took a short holiday to visit his wife in California. The chunky catcher, who batted .355 in the half-season he played with Victoria last year may supply the long-ball punch to go along with the speed of the Tyees.

Tyees now have three catchers in camp—Marcucci, Milt Martin and John Wilburn. Marcucci and Martin are right-handed hitters while Wilburn swings from the left side.

Tyees held a workout Wednesday night in preparation for their four-game series with Yakima Bears, which opens tonight at Athletic Park.

WISNESKI TO WORK—Rookie right-hander Bill Wisneski has been named to pitch for Tyees in the opener. He tossed a two-hitter against Lewiston Broncs in his first start.

Tyees have a perfect mark against Bears, having swept their three-game series which opened the season in Yakima.

Victoria was not the only town hit by damp weather. Spokane at Tri-City and Yakima at Vancouver were forced to the sidelines because of rain.

SENATORS WIN

In the only game that got past the weather, Salem Senators scored five runs in the first two innings and held on for a 9-5 win over Lewiston Broncs at Salem. Lewiston starter, Cal Humphries, gave up four hits in the first two frames but the Bears took advantage of bases on balls to parlay the four blows into five runs.

Lewiston catcher, Jake Helmut, clouted a two-run homer in the fourth to make it close, but Yakima saluted it away with three runs in the sixth on two hits and three walks.

ONE TERRIFIC INNING

Eight-Run Rally Gives Esquimalt Classic Win

They took the lid off the Inter-High School Senior Softball League, Wednesday, and Esquimalt High reached in and pulled out a sensational 8-6 win over Vic High at the latter's home field.

The teams managed to get only five innings in but that was enough for Esquimalt as they scored all their runs in the last inning.

Vic High jumped into a 4-0 lead in the bottom of the fourth and added another pair in the fifth off Esquimalt pitcher Mark Cunningham.

STRATFORD NIPS FORT FRANCES

FORT FRANCES, Ont., May 1 (BUP)—The Stratford Indians kept alive their Allan Cup hockey hopes Wednesday night by defeating the Fort Frances Canadians, 2-1.

The eastern champions' victory cut Fort Frances' lead in the best-of-seven series to three games to two. The sixth game is scheduled here Friday night.

Lyle Roth was hailed as the hero of the eastern titlists by scoring the tying and game-winning goals in the third period.

Guelph Near Memorial Cup

TORONTO, May 1 (BUP)—Guelph Biltmores outclassed the Regina Pats Wednesday night to win their third straight game in the best of seven Memorial Cup hockey finals 8-2.

A crowd of 4,270, 3,000 less than those who watched Sunday's contest at the Maple Leaf Gardens, saw the Pats stay in the game only for the first five minutes. After that, the Biltmores pulled away with three goals in less than four minutes to sail away the game before the 10-minute mark of the first period.

The fourth and possibly the last game will be played here Friday. Victory would be the Biltmores' first in the Memorial Cup race.

Andy Bathgate and Ron Murphy both fired three goals for Guelph with Ken Laufman and Chuck Henderson scoring the others. Defenseman Johnny Reeve and forward Brian MacDonald saved Regina from a whitewash.

'The Brat' Plugs Gap

Stanky Turns Active Again As Cards Slaughter Brooks

Cagey Eddie Stanky picked the right spot to throw his "intangibles" into his St. Louis Cardinal starting line-up. Beaten Tuesday night by Preacher Roe for the eighth straight time and wandering two games under .500, manager Stanky finally pulled the sheets off second baseman Stanky.

Stanky opened the season on the bench and with Red Schoendienst on second. You knew it couldn't last. Stanky's ability to get on base, his inspirational leadership demanded a more active role. But Schoendienst, nitting 340 had to play.

Finally he made his move. Schoendienst went to third and "The Brat" took over at second. You have an idea manager Eddie will be in there most of the time from now on.

The impact of Stanky's presence in the line-up could be seen in the very first inning. "Stanky walked," the play-by-play read. Before the first inning was over it also read "Stanky doubted down the leftfield line, Westlake and Bilko scoring." The Cards scored six runs in that inning, knocking out Chris Van Cyck.

STALEY COPS FOURTH

Stanky walked twice more before the night was over while Gerry Staley, his ace, became the first four-time winner in the major leagues this season.

Schoendienst handled four chances faultlessly and smashed a bases-loaded home run off Bud Podbielan in the fifth inning as the Cards ran up a 14-2 score.

Wally Westlake returned to centre field and Enos Slaughter and Billy Johnson were benched in the new Card line-up.

Meanwhile, the American League was saying its farewells to two fine ballplayers—Ted Williams of Boston Red Sox, and Gerry Coleman, of New York Yankees.

Both Williams and Coleman left them laughing when they said goodbye—in fact, Williams might even reconsider and play one more game.

Ted entrenched the rookie-laden Red Sox in first place with a two-run homer, his first of the year, to beat Detroit, 5-3. Williams, who reports for flying duty as a Marine Corps captain Friday, was showered with gifts in pre-game ceremonies.

Then Williams went out to hit the former off relief Dizzy Trout in the seventh inning for rookie Ivan Delock's second big league win.

Coleman, also a Marine Corps captain, was honored at a between-games ceremony at Yankee Stadium where the Yanks split a doubleheader with St. Louis Browns.

He bowed out with two hits in each game to finish with a heavy .405 average.

PAIGE HELPS

Despite Coleman's hitting and a homer, double and single by Mickey Mantle, the Yanks lost the opener to the Browns, 9-4. Bob Cain received some fine relief help from old Satch Paige to whip the world champs.

Allie Reynolds earned the Yanks a split with a four-hitter in the second game, 4-1. Elmer Valo, the league-leading hitter at .410, snapped the Philadelphia A's out of a seven-game losing streak with a three-run homer that beat Cleveland's Early Wynn, 3-1.

Victoria High to Host B.C. Track Meet Again

The enthusiasm shown towards the B.C. high school track meet in Victoria last summer has prompted the department of education to return the meet here for the second successive year.

The announcement was made in Vancouver Wednesday by R. L. Phillips, acting director of physical education and recreation of the B.C. Department of Education.

The meet is to be held May 30 and 31.

Last year the big track gala attracted around 30 B.C. schools to Victoria and was a tremendous success. Vic High was crowned

FIVE-TEAM CITY BASEBALL LEAGUE APPEARS LIKELY

There's good news for the Eagles baseball team. They won't be alone this year in spite of Wednesday's report to the contrary.

Wally Thompson, president of the Victoria Amateur Baseball Association, has announced that the local senior league would likely be composed of five teams with Navy definitely out.

Thompson said that in addition to Eagles, Salt Spring Island, Combines, and two teams made up of players 18 and under, have tentatively entered the league.

Details on entries will be ironed out at a league meeting Friday night at the Eagles Home, 751 View Street, at 8.

SEVEN CLUBS SEEK HONORS
Senior 'B' Softball
Season Opens Sunday

Seven clubs will join in the battle in the senior "B" men's softball league this summer. Play will continue through a schedule of possibly more than 63 games.

If the weather is good towards the end of the schedule, then softball will continue, and if not, the schedule will end at 63 games.

Seven teams entered in the league are: Army, Joe Posters, Esquimalt Athletic Association, B.C. Forest Products, Timkeners, Esquimalt Merchants and Tillamums. Each team will play 13 games, and 21 if the weather permits.

Games, which will be held at Central, Bullen and Heywood Avenue Parks, will be scheduled every day except Saturday.

The season will officially open Sunday, Army hosting B.C. Forest Products at Heywood Park.

Complete schedule follows:

VANCOUVER, B.C., May 1 (BUP)—The National Boxing championships, combined this year with the Canadian Olympic trials, open tonight with 53 fighters from all parts of the nation aiming for the 10 divisional crowns and the coveted six berths on the Olympic team.

The Olympic selections will be announced following the final bout in the three-day tournament Saturday night. It was the first time in more than four years the nation's top amateur boxing action had been held in the west coast city.

The fighters weighed in starting at 10 a.m. (PDT) with the first bout scheduled to get underway at 8. A runner bearing a torch, similar to the opening of the Olympics, will get the program underway.

Two former champions were back seeking greater glory. Two new weight divisions were also listed in the first renewal of the N.B.A. tourney since 1950.

53 ENTRANTS
The 53 fighters, the cream of the nation's amateur pugilists, qualified for the championships through provincial and regional eliminations. Although Amateur Athletic Union officials declined to rate the boxers, they agreed that Quebec, in particular, was expected to have a strong contingent.

First round action features 15 fights, with 20 scheduled for Friday and the final 10 Saturday. Olympic rankings were expected to be announced shortly after the last bout in the finals.

Roy Keenan of Montreal, 1950 lightweight champion, and Ed French of Lethbridge, Alta., 1950 light-heavyweight king, were the only defending champions entered in the 1952 event. New divisions are the light-welter, at 130 pounds, and the light-middle, at 156 pounds.

HEAVIES POPULAR
The heavyweight division drew most pre-tourney attention, with Jim Miller, McGill University, Montreal, Dominion intercollegiate champion, rated a strong contender. Jim Saunders, 20, Winnipeg, Canadian champion three years ago, was also given strong support in the four-man heavyweight division.

Leading contenders in the other divisions were expected to include: Len Walters, Vancouver, 1951 U.S. featherweight champion; Clayton Kenny, Ottawa, light-heavyweight, who holds a victory over professional Armand Saviole of Montreal; Ray Keenan, Montreal, stepping into the newly-formed light-welter class with his 1950 lightweight laurels; Ray Boehmer, Winnipeg light-middleweight, and Buddy Parson, Vancouver flyweight.

GLASGOW, May 1 (AP)—Scotland's powerhouse soccer team shellacked the United States all-star outfit 6-0 at Hampden Stadium Wednesday. It was first soccer game ever played between the two countries and 107,765 spectators jammed the arena.

But we're not moving on

In the old days a logging camp was often a collection of flimsy tar paper shacks at the end of a muddy trail. You stripped the hillside then moved over into the next valley and started again. There was no permanency, no attempt at conservation... just the urge to move on—to stake out new timber limits while the going was good.

But we're NOT moving on! Columbia Cellulose Company is in the Prince Rupert and Terrace areas to stay. Our forest properties will always be green. For every tree we cut a new seedling must grow. Our camps are pleasant buildings with comforts and conveniences undreamed of a few short years ago. Permanent roads are already beginning to link our operations opening up new scenic beauties and providing speedy access for fire protection. And, these ever growing, evergreen forests remain open to hunters and fishermen to enjoy.

This is a new kind of logging operation... a planned long-term development policy which will yield greater benefits for every one of us with each passing year. No, Columbia Cellulose is not moving on—we're moving in.

Columbia Cellulose Company is the first unit of a rapidly expanding Canadian industrial organization. Within a few months, this organization will be combining timber from British Columbia with natural gas derivatives from Alberta to produce a wide range of fibres and other acetate products for Canadians from coast to coast. Our program of continuous forest yield ensure lasting full-time employment for thousands of Canadian workers.

UPLAND, Calif., May 1 (AP).—Here it is Thursday, and Pancho is still on standard time. Pancho is a little fox terrier who makes the rounds with mailman Charlie Deverets every day. Pancho was an hour late Monday, but after search of the mail room he took off and caught Charlie well on his way. The same thing's happened since. But post office workers are confident Pancho will get used to the time switch in a few more days. Pancho isn't Charlie's dog. Charlie's dog, Skippy, walked the route for 16 years, but died last fall of old age. Pancho, Skippy's son, now owned by Mrs. Neva Johnson, took over.

Tacoma Feels Lack of Paper

TACOMA, Wash. (AP).—A metropolitan city deprived suddenly of a daily newspaper undergoes strange changes as the days go by. Along with the missing news and advertising, there's the frequently heard plaint of "I sure miss the funnies," and one radio station even tried to fill that lack. But retail business both big and small, sports and civic events, charity drives, the radio stations, the small weekly papers, the news staffs out of jobs and even the elderly folks who miss the obituary columns are all affected in one way or another. Midway of the third week of the A.F.L.-pressmen's union wage strike which has closed the Tacoma News-Tribune, only newspaper in this city of 143,000, here are capsule descriptions of the situation: Business: Reaction varied. All retail merchants agree they want the paper back in operation, but they are not unanimous as to whether the shutdown has hurt business. One department store said sales were down 12 per cent, another said sales had been "down 50 per cent some days." The news: Two stations, KINT and KTAC, enlarged their staffs and increased the number of their daily newscasts, leaning heavily toward local news. Two weeklies, the North End News and the South Tacoma Star, were consolidated and weekly roundups of local news carried. Sports, civic events, charity drives, conventions: Sponsors all worried over ways of publicizing their work. Advertising: Many of the larger stores turned quickly to radio advertising and distributing handbills of "shopping guides." All three radio stations had a heavy upswing in advertising business. The funnies: KINT started a Sunday noon dramatized broadcast of the most popular comics. They used a cast of 10 people to act out Li'l Abner, Bugs Bunny

Ottawa Seeks New Honor for Brig. Rockingham

OTTAWA, May 1 (CP).—Brig. John M. Rockingham is due in Canada May 16 with an assignment to Britain's high-ranking Imperial Defense College and a new award coming up. He is due to go overseas late this year to attend the college, a stepping stone to bigger things. Meantime, he will become director-general of military training at army headquarters. The defense department is pondering what honor it can bestow on him as a fitting reward for his superb work in organizing and commanding the 25th Brigade. He already has won the Distinguished Service Order twice for gallant leadership in Europe and is a Commander of the Order of the British Empire. The department also is considering a change in the designation of the brigade Brig. Rockingham has left behind him. It is likely the name 25th Brigade will be dropped or transferred because the originals of that formation are either home now or due home soon. It has been suggested that it be called the 23rd Brigade and that the 25th be given to the formation of veteran units when they are re-established in Canada. In any event, some sort of altered designation is likely.

Fight for Navy Command In Mediterranean Waxes

U.S. Answers British Claims of Experience With Argument of Numerical Superiority

ROME, May 1 (AP)—A new effort is under way to solve an old question between Britain and the United States: Who will boss Allied naval power in the strategic Mediterranean?

Admiral William B. Fechteler, U.S. chief of naval operations, is sounding out the views of French, Italian and other Allied naval leaders.

Informed circles were pessimistic that his talks will hatch a solution. Other efforts to solve it have failed repeatedly.

Britain wants all Mediterranean naval forces under a single command, with a British commander-in-chief. The British envisage this command as autonomous, reporting directly to the military standing group of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization rather than to Supreme Headquarters of the Allied Powers in Europe.

Britain argues she has long experience in Mediterranean operations, that during the Second World War it was a British command and that since the Atlantic

2-Year Term for Shooting at Girl

VANCOUVER, May 1 (CP)—Ilko Sahaydah, 50-year-old logger, Wednesday was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary for shooting at his girl friend.

He admitted in court that he fired three shots at 27-year-old Ethel Kozinka last week. She escaped injury.

"She wouldn't have anything more to do with me after we finished a bottle," he told the court.

Sahaydah, who came here from Vancouver Island, was told by Magistrate Oscar Orr: "Despite your good character I must treat this offense seriously—you might have killed the woman."

Confederation Costly To West, M.P. Claims

Commons Committee Set Up to Study Operation Of Film Board After Conflicting Views Heard

OTTAWA, May 1 (CP)—The claim that some parts of Canada are paying a stiff price for confederation has been renewed in the Commons by a western Liberal.

It is costing the west "too much money to belong to confederation," R. J. Wood (L—Norquay, Man.), said Wednesday as he pleaded for lower Canadian tariffs during the budget debate.

Tariff protection for central Canadian industry has resulted in high prices for Ontario-Quebec manufacturers, he said, with the result that the west is pouring hundreds of millions of dollars into those provinces.

While westerners were compelled by the national tariff policy to buy Canadian goods, they could not sell their own products in central Canada and had to find their own markets abroad; this meant surmounting foreign tariff barriers.

Mr. Wood, a former municipal official of Manitoba, expressed regret that more tariff cuts were not embodied in the budget. A 25-per-cent reduction in tariffs, he said, would bring about a fall of at least 15 points in the cost-of-living index.

SUBSIDIZING EAST

As matters stood now, the west was subsidizing Ontario-Quebec industry and getting nothing in return.

The Commons resumed the budget debate only briefly at Wednesday's short sitting, spending much of the afternoon in a debate on the National Film Board before setting up a committee to examine board operations for the first time since it was created in 1939.

Members of all parties commended the board, though some disagreement developed over whether the praise should go to Reconstruction Minister Winters, who has charge of it now, or should be shared by Mr. Winters with Revenue Minister McCann, his predecessor as minister responsible for the N.F.B.

G. K. Fraser (P.C.—Peterborough West), a frequent critic of the board in the McCann regime, said it had improved since it was placed under Mr. Winters in 1950.

THOUGHTS OF DERBY AFFECTED EIGHT-YEAR-OLD POLICE HORSE

DETROIT, May 1 (UPI)—Sport, an eight-year-old police horse with patrolman Edward Wortman up, ran wild for nine blocks up busy Woodward Avenue Wednesday until he came to a red light.

The light failed to halt the horse, but an automobile crossing the intersection did. Wortman and Sport were treated for cuts and bruises.

"He'd been full of spirit all day," Wortman said. "I guess it was the thought of the Kentucky Derby."

Art Centre Elects Grant

President Will Undertake Ambitious Program to Boost Membership Up to 1,000

Ronald Grant, a native son and one of the prominent younger businessmen of the city, will head the Arts Centre of Greater Victoria for the coming year.

This was the decision of the well attended annual meeting of the organization, held at the Moss Street gallery Wednesday evening. Mr. Grant, who succeeds Mrs. A. S. Wyllie, the retiring president, is a member of the legal firm of Clearhue & Gregory.

Already noted among the Arts Centre directorate for his organizational ability, he will undertake a program designed to bring membership up to 1,000; to gain greater understanding and financial support from the city and municipalities, and to foster and increase public interest.

That this increase is already under way since the gallery moved into the Spencer home was clearly indicated in reports of the various committees.

The membership, has almost doubled in the last few months, now being approximately 600. All activities undertaken have been successful; most outstanding, the sponsorship of the Paganini Quartet, which netted a profit of more than $600, according to the report of Dr. Harry Hickman.

HEARTENING FIGURES

Curator Colin Graham presented heartening attendance figures.

These showed that since November, when the Moss Street centre was opened, 9,375 persons have visited the gallery. Of this number, more than 5,000 expressly attended the exhibitions.

THE PAYOFF

This mother had set her heart on a light-colored Chesterfield Set, with a dark rug, but the daughter wanted the forest green suite with a light-colored rug, and father didn't much care. Both these nice ladies put it up to me, saying, "Which would YOU choose?" which is always a tough spot for any salesman, so I hedged around, & said, "Well, I guess the mother in most families should get her way, because she's home all day, and looks at things the most, yet on the other hand, the daughter wants it nice for when her boy friend comes to call, so I don't quite..."

Father looked at his wife & then his daughter, & then at me, and he went around in circles some more, with me all the time trying to say the right thing, like "Well, I DO think the forest green is the most practical, yet I think the light is so lovely," etc., etc., when suddenly the whole thing was solved when we came across a different rug which was a happy compromise, and the daughter got the forest green, and mother got the rug, and father didn't much care. There is always a little pause after you write up the sale, the little pause which is the polite way of asking "Now what about the dough?" and is it cash or a little down & stuff like that, but this particular mother just sat down in a chair, and yanked out of a paper bag a tall round tin that used to be full of grape-fruit juice. It had two slits in the top, and she passed it over to me, & it was so heavy I almost dropped it. Then father took out a hefty boy-scout type of knife, and split it further all around the top, and dumped the biggest pile of 50-cent pieces I had ever seen all in one place, in all my life. "Good sufferin' gosh!" I asked, "who is the poked player in the family?" They all laughed & told me they had just been plunking in a 4-bit vice whenever anyone in the family had one, ever since last Christmas, as mother had her heart set on a light-colored Chesterfield Set, and they were all determined to get it from

NOTED ARTIST

The curator announced that a noted Canadian artist, J. W. G. Macdonald, at present teaching at the Ontario College of Art, will be at the Arts Centre during July and early August. During that period he will conduct two children's classes and two adult classes a week and will give a course of lectures.

Mr. Macdonald, who is a member of the Canadian Group of Painters and a life member of the British Columbia Society of Artists, taught for some time at the Vancouver School of Art and at Banff School of Fine Arts.

The financial statement showed a bank balance of $4,908.

The president's report struck an optimistic note but revealed that, in order to become self-supporting, more funds were needed to make available more rooms for renting and educational purposes.

Mrs. Wyllie was warmly thanked for her capable and unrelenting work during the past year.

E. W. Arnott, G. A. A. Hedden and Major H. C. Holmes were elected as advisory board. Eleven vacancies on the directorate were filled as follows: Mesdames J. Beattie, G. Ewan, W. Humphries, G. Masters, E. Seely-Smith, G. Wismer and A. S. Wyllie; Miss Gwen Scott, and R. A. H. Lort, R. W. Purvis and J. A. Whitehead.

STUDENTS STRIKE

ALDEBURGH, Eng., May 1 (AP)—Fifty-seven Suffolk students are on strike because they don't like to ride bicycles to school. Most live in Aldeburgh, where it's a four-mile ride to school. They have turned up their noses at bikes provided by the board of education when it cancelled free train rides as an economy measure.

EVERYBODY MOVES AND MOANS MAY 1

By RON BAIRD

I hate moving. I hate disturbing things that have remained undisturbed for a long time. And that includes myself. But today, along with thousands of other Canadians, I celebrate and take an active part in a strange phenomenon that seems to crop up every year on May 1. Someone once labelled it "National Moving Day" and the tag stuck.

Montreal cartage people expect to shuttle the possessions of about 8,000 families across that eastern city today; nearly 2,000 hauled householders will be sitting in new surroundings by the time dusk falls in Quebec City tonight—in Victoria, the moving vans were as thick as summer flies.

Sitting in the midst of a shambles of cardboard boxes, beds, dishes and books, the full significance of this rather appalling national institution hits home like the blast of a shotgun on a quiet morning.

There's an art to moving... say the guys who don't have to do the job. I know!

A few of them dropped around Wednesday night to plan a full-scale assault on the furniture and bid a fond farewell to four familiar walls.

They got some of the stuff moved.

In the spirit of the moment, they moved all the food out of the refrigerator and into their stomachs. They moved all the cigarettes out of their packages and into over-burdened ash trays. Then they moved on...

To advise some other lost soul caught in this day of national confusion, perhaps.

So the cardboard boxes remain, the wispy threads of long-established cobwebs still hang in their accustomed corners and when the moving men arrive, they'll face a sight as shocking as anything they have encountered this day.

But within a short time, everything will be sitting neatly in new surroundings.

Back in the old quarters, only a few streaks of dust will remain as a memorial to two years of not having to celebrate "National Moving Day." And all over the city, odds and ends lie in deserted rooms, waiting for someone to kick them aside to make way for a new load of furniture.

At the end of the day, tired housewives will sit on disarranged furniture, eat off anything that will take a plate and give thanks that this "Maytime mania" is over for another year.

Bus Fare Boost Reasons Secret

P.U.C. Refuses to Give Victoria City Written Explanation Consenting to Hike

Public Utilities Commission will not give the city of Victoria written reasons for its consent to increased B.C.E. bus fares.

The P.U.C. wrote City Solicitor A. J. Patton Wednesday:

"The Commission has noted your wish to obtain a detailed statement in writing of the reasons granted by it on March 25, 1952, and declines to furnish such a statement as no written reasons for the consent were issued."

T. P. O'Grady, assistant city solicitor, said it was considered "somewhat unusual for a tribunal of this nature to refuse reasons for its finding especially where points of law are involved."

"Absence of such reasons makes it much more difficult for the city to assess its position with respect to an appeal or other action," Mr. O'Grady said.

The city, however, could appeal to the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council.

The P.U.C. is not compelled to "state a case" on the city's application but would have to on an application from the Attorney-General.

Civic Reform Association of Vancouver has already served notice on the P.U.C. of its intention to appeal.

C.N.R.'s SHORT TICKET TAKES YOU JUST AS FAR

Your trip is still as long as your ticket; but tickets are shorter.

That's the word from Canadian National Railways' general agent here, Austin L. Curtis.

His office has introduced a new inter-line ticket about the size of a dollar bill. Gone is the multiple strip which, for a trans-continental trip, was long enough to tangle about the ankles. Now the tickets are in booklet form, easily fitting into pocket or purse.

The pages of the book are made up of coupons, easily examined, easily punched, easily checked.

The tickets are in sequence, rather than in reverse order, as formerly.

So if you are going to Montreal from Victoria, you can tell from your ticket you start here... not somewhere near the Montreal station.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

J. Leaver of Victoria has been elected a director of the Fisheries Council of Canada. It was announced from Vancouver today. Another British Columbian, R. T. Hager, Vancouver, was elected also to the directorate.

R. G. Smith of Halifax was elected president of the council. He succeeds Francis Millard of Vancouver.

Motorcyclist Sidney Mithroff, 1749 Fairfield, injured in a traffic accident this morning, was reported as being in good condition at press time by Royal Jubilee Hospital attendants.

He was involved in a collision with a car driven by Bruce Robinson, 1061 Redfern, at 8:05, at Oak Bay Avenue and Richmond Road.

"Continue this and the fine will be heavier next time," Magistrate H. C. Hall warned Bhag Singh, 98 Clms, today in city police court.

The warning came after the magistrate had imposed a $5 fine against the driver for continuous night parking on a city street.

Gnr. Edward B. Savage, Gordon Head Camp, was fined a total of $40 in city police court today for driving offenses.

Being a holder of a "learner's license" the gunner was fined $25 for driving a vehicle without being accompanied by a licensed adult. He was also fined $15 for exceeding the speed limit.

Hospital Rate Boost Announced

Higher daily rates for British Columbia hospitals were announced today by the health and welfare department.

The increases range from 25 cents to $1.60.

The boosts will not mean higher hospital insurance premiums because the B.C. Hospital Insurance Service budget approved at the last session of the Legislature made allowances for the additional costs.

However, persons entering hospital who are not covered by hospital insurance will have to pay the new rates.

Early this year higher interim rates were laid down. The plan was to set final rates later when all hospital budgets were submitted.

These now have been approved and slightly higher rates have been found necessary. They are retroactive to the start of this year.

In Victoria, the Royal Jubilee Hospital daily rate will be increased to $14.75. This compares with $14 set as the interim rate early this year and $11.95 as the 1951 rate.

New St. Joseph's Hospital rate will be $13.40 compared with a $13 interim rate and $11.10 last year.

The health and welfare department explained that increased wages plus other higher costs have boosted the total cost of operating the hospitals of B.C. between 10 and 20 per cent over 1951.

To cover these total B.C.H.S. payments to hospitals for this year will be about 17 per cent higher than 1951.

Thow Elected President of Royal Jubilee

J. C. Thow is the new president of the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital, it was announced today.

He is manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce. He succeeds R. A. Wootton, for many years a leading lawyer here, who announced his retirement Wednesday.

Vice-president of the board of directors is Reeve J. W. Casey of Saanich. E. W. McMullen, retired bank manager, is honorary treasurer.

On the executive committee with Mr. Thow, Reeve Casey and Mr. McMullen will be: P. A. Moir, past-president; Ald. F. G. Mulliner, Reeve A. C. Wurtele, Esquimalt, and Dr. E. H. W. Elkington, chief of the hospital staff.

Nursing school committee will comprise: Mrs. E. Sheppard, J. L. Hobbs, J. A. Worthington, G. H. Stevens, Dr. Elkington and Mr. Thow.

Personnel committee consists of: Reeve Casey, Ald. Mulliner, Mr. Moir, Mr. Thow and Dr. Elkington.

Victoria-Made Mace Focus Of Ceremony

Although ceremonies carried out on the jetties of H.M.C. Dockyard, Wednesday, were strictly Victoria industry and design formed the focus point.

The mace, gift of the people of Ontario to the ship, was a product of Maurice Carmichael, silversmith, 1023 Fort Street. The mace—a drum major's baton—was not only made but designed by Mr. Carmichael who founded the firm some 30 years ago.

Presented to the Ontario's commanding officer, Capt. E. P. Tisdall, by Dr. A. H. Mahaffey, C.M.G., who represented the people of Ontario and Premier Leslie Frost, the mace was in the form of a terrestrial globe supported by a wreath of oak leaves, and surmounted by a coronet of naval crowns, hand-chased and engraved in sterling silver.

The grizzly bear at the top was from the province of Ontario's coat of arms. The ship's crest is in high relief on both sides of the staff.

Her suitcases sold at $15,000 and accommodated rajahs, film stars, industrial barons and European nobility.

It was the Australia which became the only merchant vessel ever to fly the royal standard at sea on more than one occasion. In 1927, the ship carried the Prince of Wales to Canada and, in 1939, King George VI and Queen Elizabeth.

For 12 years prior to Second World War the Australia sailed the route from Quebec City to the U.K. As a troopship in the war, she steamed over 256,000 miles and took part in many famous actions, including landings at Algiers, the First Canadian Division landing on Iceland, the retreat from Namsos and Narvik and D-Day preparations.

The vessel has been on charter to the British Ministry of Transport since the end of the war.

Aboard the liner for the last voyage were over 2,000 British troops and service families from Hong Kong, Mombasa, Aden and Port Said.

Strangely enough, although the Australia sailed round-the-globe many times and docked in nearly all the world's major harbors, it never once put in at any port of the country after which she was named.

Indian Chief at Synod Conference

Among 250 delegates attending 50th session of British Columbia Diocesan Synod which concluded in Victoria today was Chief James Sewid, who journeyed to conference from Alert Bay. Chief Counsellor of Nimpkish Tribe, Chief Sewid is

LONG WAY TO GO

Admiral Mainguy Happy At Navy Progress Here

Vice-Admiral E. R. Mainguy, chief of the naval staff, stated today that he is completely satisfied with all that he has seen during his week-long inspection tour of ships and establishments of the Royal Canadian Navy's Pacific Command at Esquimalt.

"We still have a long way to go before attaining our objective of approximately 100 ships and 21,000 officers and men," he said, "but I am well pleased with the progress being made. We are keeping up with our schedule." Admiral Mainguy will continue his inspection of R.C.N. establishments in Western Canada at Vancouver, where he is scheduled to arrive on Monday.

After leaving Vancouver he will visit Calgary, Edmonton, Regina and Saskatoon. On May 9 in Saskatoon he will deliver the main address at the University of Saskatchewan Convocation Day banquet. He will return to Ottawa by air.

R.M.C. GRADUATES TWO VICTORIA MEN

A. D. Wallis and E. P. McLoughlin, both of Victoria, were among 72 R.C.A.F. cadets who graduated from Royal Military College, Kingston, recently.

It was the first graduation class since the historic college was reopened in 1948.

The cadets' four years of intensive training was culminated in colorful closing exercises inspected by Lt.-Gen. Charles Foulkes, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. The college trains cadets from the three services. The Victorians will go into the R.C.A.F.

Old Liner, Familiar Here, On Last Trip—For Scrap

A famous, three-funnelled liner which once was a familiar sight along Victoria's waterfront docked at Liverpool Wednesday to end her last ocean voyage, it is learned here.

The 21,833-ton Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Australia will be turned over this month to the British Iron and Steel Corp. and broken up for scrap to supply steel for U.R. defense production.

With a long and colorful history dating back to 1914, the Australia was once known as "the world's most economical ship."

Built in Germany and named the Tirpitz, after the famous German admiral, the ship was the pride of Kaiser Wilhelm, who had planned to take the surrender of the British fleet from the deck of the ship following the First World War.

Instead, the vessel was surrendered to the Allies in 1919 and acquired by Canadian Pacific in 1921. The ship was placed on the company's Pacific run between Vancouver, Victoria and the Orient in 1922 and remained in that service until 1927, when she was re-engined and turned into a round-the-world cruise ship.

Her suitcases sold at $15,000 and accommodated rajahs, film stars, industrial barons and European nobility.

It was the Australia which became the only merchant vessel ever to fly the royal standard at sea on more than one occasion. In 1927, the ship carried the Prince of Wales to Canada and, in 1939, King George VI and Queen Elizabeth.

For 12 years prior to Second World War the Australia sailed the route from Quebec City to the U.K. As a troopship in the war, she steamed over 256,000 miles and took part in many famous actions, including landings at Algiers, the First Canadian Division landing on Iceland, the retreat from Namsos and Narvik and D-Day preparations.

The vessel has been on charter to the British Ministry of Transport since the end of the war.

Strangely enough, although the Australia sailed round-the-globe many times and docked in nearly all the world's major harbors, it never once put in at any port of the country after which she was named.

CABINET TO HEAR PROTEST

A public hearing on Celgar Development Company's application for a forest management license in the Arrow Lakes area will be held before the provincial cabinet May 19.

The company is applying for a license covering nearly 1,000,000 acres. It plans to invest $65,000,000 in a massive integrated forest industry. Kootenay Forest Products Ltd., which wants part of the large area, will launch protests at the hearing.

Five Seek Prosecutor Post Here

Applications from five Victoria lawyers for the post of city prosecutor were opened by Mayor Claude Harrison at City Council meeting today.

The applications were referred to a special joint council-policing commission, with power to act.

Applicants are: Alan Bigelow, Donald E. C. Anderson, Ewan Rowntree, Gordon A. Poupore and John E. Gatehouse.

Mr. Poupore, 27, who served in both the army and air force, has been acting city prosecutor. He has had his own law office since 1951.

Mr. Bigelow, 33, who served with the R.C.A.F. from 1939 to 1945 and was discharged with rank of Sqdn. Ldr., has been practicing law in Victoria since 1950.

Mr. Anderson, 29, who served three years with the R.C.N.V.R., has had his own law practice since early this year. He has served as acting prosecutor for Saanich, Oak Bay and Central Saanich.

Mr. Rowntree, 30, who served four years with the R.C.A.F., has been with the law firm of Haldane and Campbell since 1950.

Mr. Gatehouse, who served in the armed forces for three years, has been in general law practice since 1950.

Victoria Teacher's Funeral on Friday

Funeral services for Miss Mabel Messenger will be held from Hayward's Funeral Chapel, Friday, at 1:30 p.m.

Miss Messenger, who died Tuesday at her home, 107 Cook Street, was for many years a co-operator of The Poplars, a girls' private school. A native of England, she resided in Victoria for more than 50 years. She was an active worker for Christ Church Cathedral.

Interment will be in Royal Oak Burial Park.

Critical Era in Lumber Business

Tightening Markets, Determined Union Make Three-Month Period Most Serious

By DON INGHAM

Tightening markets and a determined union will combine to give B.C. logging and lumber operators one of the most critical three-month periods since the war's end, according to present indications.

Great Britain, which normally takes 25 per cent of British Columbia lumber production, has a backlog of lumber that will last until September, and all its contracts expire at the end of June. Canada absorbs about 20 per cent of production, and lumbermen say that today they cannot compete in the Prairie market because of high freight rates.

The remaining 55 per cent is taken by the United States, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and others. Mill men say the United States market is "weak, with poor prices," and the others are very small.

"We cannot see past the expiration of the British contracts," a mill operator said today.

Demands Won't Be Lessened

The International Woodworkers of America, which represents 32,000 B.C. coast logging and lumber workers, has shown no signs of decreasing its demands for a 35-cent per hour wage increase and other concessions.

"The market is possibly not as rosy as it could be," a union man has said, "but the whole industry has been on the gravel train for the last few years. Operators may not make as much as they have in former years, but they can afford a substantial wage increase and still show a profit."

It is generally felt in union circles that while some marginal logging and lumber operations might be hard hit, the firms with good logs and mills will continue to thrive.

One advantage the B.C. industry has over other world producers in the United Kingdom market is the popularity of Douglas fir and hemlock from this coast.

"Our lumber is preferred by the British, but we have to meet stiff competition from Russia, Sweden and the United States," an operator said. "We have to be careful not to price ourselves out of the market altogether."

ELECTION POSTERS WILL BE TABOO IN ESQUIMALT

One of the familiar sights in an election campaign—posters on every other tree and telephone pole—will be missing from Esquimalt this year.

Reeve A. C. Wurtele said today he had asked all candidates in the June 12 provincial election to co-operate with the municipal council in observing the re-written streets and traffic by-law that prohibits displaying such signs.

"We have never interfered before, but feeling against them has arisen," Reeve Wurtele said. "As a rule no great effort is made to remove them after an election, and they soon look unsightly and make the whole municipality untidy."

MORE HUMANE METHODS

Archbishop Would Have Drug Addicts Registered

A more humane method of dealing with drug addicts is advocated by the Most Rev. H. E. Sexton, Anglican Archbishop of British Columbia.

The Archbishop speaking before the 50th session of the Diocese of British Columbia Wednesday, suggested that drug addicts be registered and supplied with their needs through clinics.

"The drug traffic is a serious matter, requiring immediate attention," said the Archbishop.

Legal Point May Have Bearing On B.C. Real Estate Business

A legal point is being argued before the Court of Appeal here today which may, it is reported, have a far reaching effect on the real estate business in British Columbia.

The issue arises out of the appeal of Wesley Foreman, Victoria real estate agent, from a judgment of County Court Judge H. H. Shandley awarding a sum of $676 to Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Smy, 527 Constance Ave.

The Smy's claimed in lower court that the sum represented the balance of money owed to them by Foreman.

The alleged that Foreman fraudulently misrepresented to them the sale price of their present home. They claimed that Foreman quoted the sale price of the house at $3,750 when the sale price authorized by the vendors, Norbut Evans and Thelma Evans, was $3,000.

D. M. Gordon, Q.C., counsel for Foreman, said there was no question of fraud in the case and no cause for action against his client.

Mr. Gordon said Foreman had obtained permission from the vendors to sell the house at a higher price. The vendors did not care what price the house was sold for as long as they received $3,000 for the dwelling, he said.

"The whole issue resolves around one point: whether a real estate agent has the right to sell a house at a higher price than the listed price, with, of course, the consent and permission of the vendor," said Mr. Gordon.

"And keep the profit from the transaction," asked Chief Justice Gordon Sloan.

"Yes," replied Mr. Gordon. Mr. Gordon said there was no cause for action against his client. He pointed out that when Mr. and Mrs. Smy bought the house they were satisfied with the price and had not considered the price too high.

D. G. Cameron is representing respondents. The case is continuing.

R.C.A.F. Chief Inspects Units In City Area

Air Vice-Marshal A. L. James, senior Canadian air defense officer, spent Wednesday on an inspection tour of Victoria and District R.C.A.F. units.

Following an inspection of the Patricia Bay marine squadron he visited the Victoria auxiliary radar squadron, commanded by Sqdn. Ldr. Philip D. P. Holmes, examining both the Begg Building, which is to be reconverted for the squadron's use, and the present headquarters, the Balmoral Block.

He commended Flt.-Lt. Hugh Campbell, in charge of local R.C.A.F. recruiting for the continuing stream of new recruits passing through his office.

Firing Exercises For Naval Craft

Anti-aircraft and torpedo firing exercises will be carried out by H.M.C.S. Ontario, 9,000-ton cruiser, and the destroyer Crusader from Monday to Friday, inclusive, next week, off Nanos Harbor.

Mariners are advised by T. E. Morrison, department of transport, to exercise precaution off Nanos Harbor and the navy's training ground in the area.

Broken China Treasures
Repaired in a Jiffy!

By PENNY SAVER

How many times have you died a thousand deaths over breaking a treasured piece of china or porcelain?

I bet there have been many heart-breaking instances over just such an accident.

Naturally a repair job will not make the article like new, but at least it puts it back in one piece. If you choose the right adhesive for the job you'll find that it will be hard to detect the break.

There is a splendid English adhesive on the market that will repair crockery, china, glass, porcelain, plastic, jewelry and even sports gear.

It really is dandy. Priced at 29 pennies.

Clean Out the Roller

Not so long ago I went into raptures over a roller that applied paint. That was all very well. It would do a fine job, you would be happy, but what about keeping it clean. I didn't think of that at the time. I'm sorry!

A pint of cleaner that will leave the roller clean as a whistle is 85 pennies and a quart is $1.25. The solution is also good for cleaning paint for woodwork and for ordinary paint brushes.

What will they think of next?

When I saw a collapsible hanger in a plaid case I just about jumped for joy. Many's the time I'd have given my eye teeth for a neat little hanger I could slip in my suitcase.

At last I've found the ideal gadget.

The hanger is a good size and folds compactly in half to fit neatly inside the smart tartan case which shuts with a reassuring snap. This set is 69 pennies.

A floral case priced at 89 cents holds two collapsible hangers. Happy holiday!

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Lose Weight Slowly to Avoid Wrinkles and Sagging Skin

Many women are afraid to lose weight, or use as an alibi the old chestnut—"Losing weight makes one look older and more wrinkled."

I have had so much experience in my classes and with my readers that I can personally guarantee that this is not true. It is true that the fatty padding beneath the skin does fill the face out and make you less apt to wrinkle. However, this is certainly balanced by the heavy jowls, the double chin and the middle-aged heavy appearance the faces of the overweight have.

One reader lost one hundred pounds under my direction and I saw her afterward. She was fortyish and did not have a line in her face. Of course she dieted scientifically, took plenty of time, and did facial exercises regularly.

Those women who lose great amounts of weight too quickly or adopt a diet which does not properly nourish them, and do no exercise, are certain to look lined and flabby.

The skin must have time to shrink to its new proportion. It helps to build up tone with exercise, and if you have many pounds to lose you should do so gradually so that the two above factors are taken into consideration. Skin lubrication is also important when losing weight because it keeps the skin more pliable.

If you have just five or ten pounds to lose you do not have to be concerned about these items. If you have more you can take a flying start but afterwards it is a good idea to settle down to

St. Ann's Spring Fete and Carnival
Realized $2,000 for School Projects

A typical April shower did nothing to dampen the spirits of the crowds who attended the spring fete at St. Ann's Academy Wednesday afternoon and evening, sponsored by the parents' auxiliary to the academy. The affair realized over $2,000 to aid school projects.

Mrs. E. Holmes, president, welcomed guests, and general convener was Mrs. A. Smith.

One of the highlights was the children's carnival which included a make-believe house of horrors, miniature bazaar and freak show. For sale were many articles made by the children in their various classes. In true grown-up style, campaign managers paraded with their carnival queen candidates.

Twelve-year-old Ann McAndrew instigated the side-show and conducted tours in a traditional circus manner.

On the list of "freaks" were Minnie Midget, Miss Six Eyes, the knife swallower, 999-pound Miss Fatso, the tallest woman in the world and Flipper, the only yellow seal in captivity.

Sisters of the Academy made all the articles which they sold at the needlework stall.

In charge of home cooking were Mesdames T. C. Mathers, T. Sweeney, M. Ryan, O. Leahy and

L. Rolland. Mrs. H. Hartnell convoked the parcel post; Mesdames L. Peirce and E. Duncan, candy; Mesdames E. McIlvenny and F. Knight, lucky saeven and Mesdames A. Bethel and M. E. Noone, contests.

Mrs. M. Cook acted as fortune teller and Mrs. D. McNeil handled publicity.

Tea convener was Mrs. V. Butler, assisted by Mesdames L. Lowman, W. Moir, C. Galvin, J. Crossley and A. Crossley.

Easy and festive, especially for the young crowd, scoops of ice cream, rolled in toasted macaroon crumbs, or shredded cocoa nut; serve with fudge sauce.

Symphony Committee
Makes $175 at Sale

A sum of $175 was realized by the women's committee of the Victoria Symphony Society at a rummage sale held this week.

Co-convener was Mrs. H. W. Sparks and Miss Bernice Hughes. Assisting at the sale were Mrs. J. Barraclough, Mrs. J. McKenna, Mrs. D. B. Roxburgh, Mrs. E. W. LeFevre, Mrs. R. Murdoch, Mrs. C. Clark, Mrs. A. Burns, Mrs. W. Stenner, Mrs. H. Gilliland, Mrs. G. Lake, Mrs. J. Gillespie, sorting and arranging articles, night before the sale, Mrs. G. Abernethy, Mrs. Stenner, Mrs. Ian Edders, Miss Audrey Miller, Mrs. John Nation and Mrs. Ted Clayards.

For variety and economy, butter hot fluffy rice and serve it as a vegetable.

Mrs. Ruth Radford, Ladysmith, V.I., provincial president, will make an official visit to the Ladies' Auxiliary, Victoria Aerie, No. 12, F.O.E., on Tuesday, at a meeting in the hall, 751 View Street, commencing at 8. Officers and degree team will wear long dresses for the special initiation in her honor. Mrs. Radford will also open the Mother's Day tea planned by the auxiliary on Wednesday, in the downstairs hall at 2.30. Mrs. Ivy Bulmer is convener and other special guests will be a group of ladies from the Aged Women's Home.

Wed in Olde
England Inn

A wedding of interest in Scotland as well as in this city took place recently in Olde England Inn when Rev. J. L. W. McLean united in marriage, Jean Morris Blair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Blair, Largs, Ayrshire, Scotland, and Lawrence Douglas Murray, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Murray, Blanshard Street.

George Buckingham, uncle of the bride, gave her in marriage. She wore a pale blue tailleur complemented with navy accessories and a corsage of red roses and lily of the valley.

Miss Jean Savage, aunt of the bride, wore a grey suit with navy and white accessories and a gardenia corsage.

Archibald Emery was best man. Following the reception in Olde England Inn the newlyweds left for a honeymoon on the mainland. The bride topped her ensemble with a blue coat.

Diamond Jubilee Coffee Party Launches Campaign

Yesterday, World Service Day of the Y.W.C.A., marked the opening of a membership drive for the local branch with a coffee party in the main lounge. This event was also held in conjunction with the Diamond Jubilee of the Y.W.C.A. in Victoria.

The lounge was gaily decorated with artistic arrangements of spring flowers and blossoms and the lace-covered refreshment table was centred with mauve and white tulips with bridal wreath and tall white lighted candles placed at either side. Mrs. Claude Harrison, honorary vice-president; Mrs. J. D. Hunter, provincial vice-president, and Mrs. M. J. K. Snape presided.

Guests were welcomed by Mrs. R. E. Foster, president of the board of directors, Mrs. W. Blair, membership convener and Mrs. Wilson Gouge.

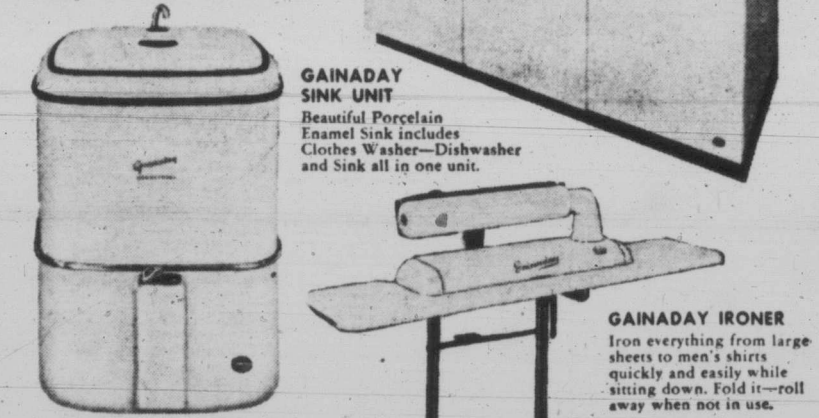

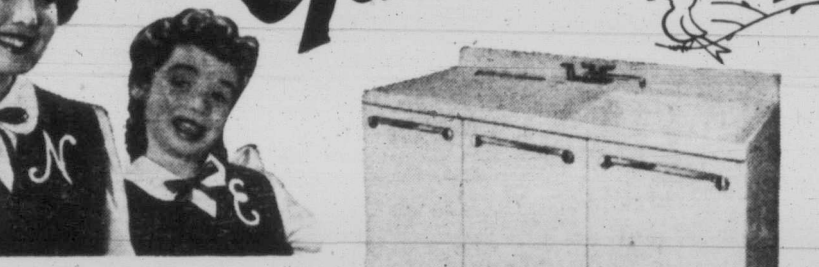

Many prominent citizens and representatives from women's organizations in the city were present.

This affair will be followed by a series of events during the month to familiarize prospective members with functions of the "Y."

At the meeting following the coffee party, Mrs. Foster presided at the table decorated with white tulips and blue scilla. The "Y's" traditional colors. Standard baskets of apple blossoms, pink tulips tinged with white, iris,

OF PERSONAL INTEREST

Younger Set Feted at Tea

A hostess this afternoon at the tea hour was Miss Susan Burton, who entertained at the home of Mrs. J. Moore, Ten Mile Point, for a number of friends, the majority of whom have been attending Victoria College this year with her. Miss Nancy Carmichael presided at the attractive tea table and other guests were Misses Margot Young, Liz Creery, Janet Henderson, Diana Elkington, Barbara Rose, Joy Cryer, Lorna Hallor, Bernice Jennings, Bernice Liddiard, Sally Laundry, Frances Appleton, Audrey Bool, Sheila Murchie, Pat Dawson, Joyce Main, Ann Norman, Shelagh Clark, Sylvia Hooper, Margaret Nixon, Christine Cook, Allison Snape, Liz Boshier, Robin Maunsell, Sally McCarter, Chloe Jefferson, Gayle Webster, Shirley Pauline and Carolyn Pauline.

Six-Month Visit Overseas

Col. and Mrs. J. Q. Gillam left Victoria on Wednesday, en route to Quebec City, where they will sail aboard the Ss. Scythia for England. They will spend six months traveling in the British Isles and on the Continent. During their absence their home on Ten Mile Point will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. R. Shreenan.

Elsie Thomson Honored

Mrs. J. S. Gurton and Miss Vera Charlesworth were co-hostesses at a shower last evening in the Dencross Terrace home of the latter in Saanich, to honor Miss Elsie Thomson, bride-elect of this week.

Corsages were presented to the guest of honor, her mother, Mrs. M. Thomson, and mother of the groom-elect, Mrs. T. G. Bellamy. The bride-elect also received a pair of blankets from the guests.

They were Mesdames H. Bennett, J. H. Cummins, L. B. Scardfield, A. Howard, A. D. Berry, J. Ward, C. H. Charlesworth, F. Street, W. R. Walker, A. A. Cormack, K. Wallace, F. Gilbert, W. Regan, B. Eckhart, J. R. McLellan, B. Smith, E. Gray, B. Dunford, E. Nielson, A. Bury, D. R. Cook, M. Chappuis, E. Tuttle, H. J. Cruickshank, G. Baal, B. Baal, B. Henne, Misses Jean Christie, Doris Mac Kay and Bessie Jackson.

At Library Conference

Honor guests at the 41st conference of the B.C. Library Association to be held in Victoria, Sunday and Monday, will include Miss Leslie Heathcotte, state librarian from Montana, who will come to the city on Sunday at noon and return to the United States by the afternoon boat on Monday. Another honor guest will be Miss Martha Shepherd of the Canadian Bibliographic Department at Ottawa. While in the city, Miss Heathcotte will be staying at the Empress Hotel, and Miss Shepherd at the Cathay. Retiring president, Miss Marjorie Sing, Vancouver Public Library, who will conduct the conference, is expected to arrive on Saturday morning and will be staying at the Dominion Hotel.

Following the Sunday evening session, Miss Margaret Clay, librarian, and members of the staff of Victoria Public Library, will entertain at an informal reception in the music room at the library.

Concluding the conference on Monday will be a banquet at the Monterey.

Representatives of libraries in Prince George, Kelowna, Nanaimo, Kamloops, Vernon, Vancouver and Victoria are expected at the conference.

Here From Sussex

Mrs. Elizabeth Scammell of Horsham, Sussex, Eng., is a visitor in the city, the guest of her sister, Mrs. G. W. Pottinger, Bank Street. Mrs. Pottinger flew to Calgary to meet Mrs. Scammell and together they traveled by plane to Leithbridge, where they visited Mrs. Pottinger's son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Brian O. Black, before returning to Victoria.

Mrs. R. S. Olson will be hostess at a coffee party in her So-mass Drive home Friday morning to honor her daughter, Mrs. John Wallace, a recent bride.

Major and Mrs. W. Taylor, Richmond Road, marked their diamond wedding anniversary yesterday. They were married in Dera Ghazi Kahn, North West Territories, India, and came to this city in 1909. Their daughter, Mrs. V. Knox, also lives in Victoria.

Members of Colwood Trail Riders are sponsoring a dance in Colwood Hall on Saturday evening with music by the Colwoodaires. Refreshments will be served.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lewis, Hillside Avenue, were visitors at Forbidden Plateau Lodge, last week-end. Mr. and Mrs. Ron Mitchell, of Vancouver, members of the Alpine Club, are spending the week there, hiking and exploring on the plateau.

Y.W.C.A. HAS MANY MEMBERS IN CANADA

TORONTO, May 1 (CP)—Members of Canada's Y.W.C.A. are more aware than ever before that "they belong to both a national and international movement," Mrs. J. L. Savage of Toronto said yesterday.

In her message as president of the Canadian Y.W.C.A. on today's celebration of world membership day, Mrs. Savage noted that the "Y" in Canada has more than 40,000 members in its 58 branches and associations from coast to coast.

She has just returned from visiting Y.W.C.A.'s in the Maritimes and Quebec, where she found more young women sharing in organization activities.

Money Is Voted From Extra Cents To Camp and Hall

Through extra cent secretary Mrs. G. W. Lifton, $40 was voted to Camp Columbia and $60 toward repairs to the hall at Harwood Mission near Nanaimo, at a board meeting of British Columbia Anglican Diocese W.A., held at St. Stephen's Hall, South Saanich.

Mrs. R. O. Taylor, president; Mrs. H. G. Horth, girls' secretary reported on the girls' auxiliary festival; treasurer, Mrs. F. Goodwin showed receipts of $3,099.24.

Candidates secretary Mrs. H. Earle announced Miss Shirley Andrews of this city had arrived at Akavik, where she is in charge of the office and laboratory; Mrs. E. J. Harris, Little Helpers' secretary, told of a recent visit to branches at Lake Cowichan and Mesachie Lake, with combined membership of 82.

Clothing for needy parishes had been sent to the Columbia Coast Mission, Mrs. B. P. Harding, Dorcas secretary, said, and she also listed needs for the pre-ventorium at Alert Bay.

Mrs. A. C. Gunning was named hospital convener.

Rev. E. H. Lee welcomed members and conducted prayers. Mrs. K. L. Sandrock, formerly of the diocese and now living in California, was welcomed.

Newlyweds Living in Calgary

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Graeme Malcolm, who, at their recent wedding in Church of Our Lord, left between an aisle formed by the bride's fellow members in the Victoria Drill Team, are now making their home in Calgary.

Rev. J. G. Brown heard the nuptial vows of the former Eileen Patricia Harling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. Harling, Lorne Terrace, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Malcolm, Lorne Terrace. (Photo by Joncas)

Mrs. Gray Lawrence, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Thomson, Central Avenue, for the past few days, left for Vancouver today. There she will join her daughter, Miss Betty Lawrence, who has just completed her third year at University of British Columbia, and visit a brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. K. C. McIntyre. Later in the month Mrs. Lawrence and her daughter will return to their home in Nelson, B.C.

Barbara Brent's BUYS AND WHYS

MONTREAL, May 1.—It all comes back to me now—those chemistry lessons I learned at school that turn out to be so practical in the home. For instance, I remember our chemistry teacher telling us that there's no true white without blue. So of course the answer to the problem of yellow-looking washes is Laundry Blue. (My maths teacher would be proud of me for putting 2 and 2 together). And believe me, Blue does make such a glorious difference to yellowing sheets and table cloths. Just wash it in the final rinsing and your white things will fairly sparkle. Laundry Blue is kind to fine fabrics—won't harm them in the least—so use as much of it as you need. Costs just a few cents a month!

For the whitest wash, it's RECKITT'S Blue.

Good News!—Now you can buy delicious, golden-yellow BLUE BONNET DE LUXE MARGARINE in individually wrapped quarters. So convenient—your favourite margarine next to a quarter pound. Blue Bonnet De Luxe quarters go right on the dish—appetizing, golden-yellow margarine ready for your table. No scooping, no slicing—just unwrap what you need. There's real flavour-protection—each quarter pound separately wrapped to seal in the country-fresh Blue Bonnet flavour. And you can forget the measuring cup when you cook with De Luxe Blue Bonnet. The measuring guide on each package shows exactly where to cut. Just think—all these "De Luxe" advantages and Blue Bonnet "De Luxe" quality, too!

Here's Proof of the wonderful anti-decay benefits of DENTOCILLIN, the new penicillin tooth powder. In a 2-year test among school children, Denticillin reduced decay an average of 55%! That's 5 times the reduction reported for a famous university's ammoniated formula. And, because penicillin fights decay up to 24 hours (compared to only about 1/2 hour for ingredients used in other dentifrices), Denticillin is effective with just morning and evening brushing. Start your family on Denticillin, right away. Safe, recommended by dentists for nearly 2 years. Tastes wonderful. Gets teeth clean. 3 months' supply, 75c. No prescription needed.

Try The "Tissue Test"—for I'm sure that until you do, you won't believe there's such a difference in cleansing creams. Lovely screen star, Alexis Smith, took the "test" and discovered that there's a big difference. She cleansed her face "thoroughly" with her regular cream, then cleansed it again with WOODBURY COLD CREAM and when she looked at her facial tissue, she found that Woodbury had loosened hidden dirt so it was easy to wipe away. Why is Woodbury so different? Because it contains Penaten, a new miracle ingredient that actually penetrates deeper into pore openings—lets Woodbury's cleansing oils loosen every trace of dirt. Penaten helps Woodbury smooth away little fatigue lines, too. Ask for Woodbury Cold Cream—23c to $1.15.

You'll Be "On Top Of The World" when you've chased the "Glooms" away with sparkling SAL HEPATICA. Yes, a bubbling glass of Sal Hepatica effervescent salts taken before breakfast or supper will work quickly, yet gently, to relieve that sluggish, uncomfortable feeling in your stomach. Sal Hepatica laxative salts are a trusted family laxative—for young and old—to just sweeten your stomach—as a mild laxative or a more thorough remedy for constipation. They help to restore normal bodily functions—safely and pleasantly. Next time you're shopping, ask for a bottle of Sal Hepatica and then send the box top or label, with your name and address, to me—Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q. I'll send you, postpaid, a free, 25c size jar of MUM Cream Deodorant!

Don't You Love That Confident Feeling you get when you take your Swans Down cake out of the oven, and it is tempting-looking, light and evenly risen? Don't you love to have the family form an admiring circle around it, and exclaim over the first taste of melt-in-your-mouth tender and delicious cake? I'll bet it's then that you thank your stars you've discovered SWANS DOWN CAKE FLOUR! For you are one of those lucky women who has learned how much more eventful, fluffy and moist cakes can be when you use Swans Down, because it is sifted and retined until 27 times as fine as ordinary flour, makes better cakes, every time.

Which Is Best? That's an important question when it comes to selecting the right tissues for make-up use. So I gave the leading brands the "dressing-table test". Try it yourself! Use an ordinary 2-ply tissue for one cheek and a 3-ply FACE-ELLE for the other. Note how the Face-ELLE tissue holds together to do the job quickly—without muss or fuss. Contrast that with tissue that shreds easily—that lets finger-tips poke through with light rubbing. There, surely, is convincing evidence of the extra strength of Face-ELLE's 3-PLY thickness—the only 3-ply tissues in Canada. What's more, Face-ELLE is softer. Ask for Face-ELLE and be sure of more comfort for your money.

Happy The Bride The Sun Shines On, the old saying goes. And I have something to add to that—happy the wife who knows about the modern method of feminine hygiene—ZONITORS. Zonitors are effective, greaseless, stainless, snow-white vaginal suppositories that are powerfully germicidal, yet absolutely safe to delicate tissues. And they're so very dainty and convenient to use. Ask your druggist for Zonitors tomorrow—and write to me—Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q.—for a free booklet giving frank facts on feminine hygiene. It will be sent to you in a plain wrapper.

ISLAND DIGEST

SHAWNIGAN LAKE, May 1.—W. A. Clay was re-elected president by acclamation of the Shawnigan Lake Chamber of Commerce. Others elected were J. Sidaway, vice-president; Mrs. E. G. Gibson, secretary; P. G. Cudlip, treasurer.

A petition will be circulated to ward having the outlet of the lake cleared.

NANAIMO, May 1.—Sgt. Chris Jacklin, who retired from the R.C.M.P. Wednesday after 31 years and 50 days of police service, was honored at a dinner Wednesday night by members of the detachment.

He joined the B.C. Police in 1924 and served at Nanaimo, Prince Rupert and Kamloops. In 1942 he returned to Nanaimo with the rank of sergeant and was officer in charge at the time of his retirement.

He will be succeeded by Staff Sgt. Alan Hutchinson.

Water Board Members See Patch Logging

Patch logging operations were viewed by Greater Victoria Water Board members on a tour of Shawnigan Lake Lumber Co. at Deerholme Wednesday.

Reeve Joseph Casey, of Saanich, chairman of the water board, arranged the tour so that members might learn of modern logging techniques to aid them in deliberations over the Sooke watershed logging controversy.

Board members are not in agreement over a plan to log on a sustained yield basis the Sooke watershed property. The project, similar to certain types of commercial block logging, would net the water district an estimated $90,000 a year.

Civil and municipal officials were taken on a 35-mile trip through the 75,000-acre property by Gerald Wellburn, manager.

The company is a subsidiary of the Macmillan & Bloedel interests.

Present on the tour were: Aldermen Percy Scourrah, Jim Neely and Robert Macmillan; Reeve Casey and C. R. Grace Shaw, of Saanich; Reeve A. C. Wurtelle, of Esquimalt.

QUAIL KILLED. CASTELLON, Spain, May 1 (AP)—Residents of this Mediterranean town got a mammoth bag of quail recently without firing a shot. A violent windstorm blacked out the area. When the lights went on again, some 3,000 dead birds—most of them quail—littered the streets and avenues. Apparently they crashed against buildings.

DUNCAN, May 1.—Rubinoff, famed violinist, has won to music hundreds of young converts in this area with a series of concerts in Duncan and Lake Cowichan schools.

He played to Cowichan High School pupils this afternoon, and will give an evening concert in the school auditorium at 8.15.

LADYSMITH, May 1.—Funeral services will be held Friday for William H. Jones, 74, native of Wales who arrived in Ladysmith in 1881.

After mining coal there he moved to the new city of Ladysmith in 1900. He was an ardent gardener and student of the city's early history.

NANAIMO, May 1.—Vancouver Island Fire Fighters' Association elected William Venables, Port Alberni fire chief, as president for 1952.

Frank Jamieson, Ladysmith, was elected vice-president, and Fire Chief Murph Wardill, Nanaimo, was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

For the first time, delegations from Union Bay and South Wellington attended, making a total of 21 departments in the association.

NANAIMO, May 1.—Piper Park will be dedicated during May 24 celebrations here. At the same time an old engine used at coal mines in North Wellington, South Wellington and Extension will be received officially from its donor, W. R. Swanson, of the provincial government.

DUNCAN, May 1.—Committee of Cowichan Agricultural and Industrial Exhibition is considering enlisting the services of a capable business man to advise on financial matters for the 1952 fair.

It is necessary to put the fair on a sound footing this year, since it lost money in 1951.

Patrons of the fair will be Lieutenant-Governor Clarence Wallace, Agriculture Minister Harry Bowman and Andrew Whisker, former M.L.A.

Duke of Windsor Will Strike It Rich If Alberta Ranch Produces Oil, Gas

By BRIAN O'LEARY

OTTAWA, May 1.—Is the Duke of Windsor going to become a Canadian oil baron?

This is the speculation around Ottawa these days after the ex-King's recent over-night visit to Montreal last week.

A shroud of mystery cloaked the Duke's Montreal visit. It was described as "purely a private business trip." No other details were given out about it.

Some persons in Ottawa, however, hinted that the ex-monarch was up from New York checking on the possibility that there may be oil and natural gas on his "EP" ranch in Alberta.

The 2,560-acre Windsor ranch is just 12 miles south of the Turner Valley oil fields. For the past two to three months, a well was being drilled on the ranch.

To date, the Duke's ranch has yielded up neither oil nor natural gas. However, drillings on the same land structure in neighboring property have produced natural gas in quantity.

Oil experts in Ottawa said that the Duke's chances were "a good gamble" even if they were only one in 10 that he would strike it rich.

The new well now being drilled on the ranch has been bored down over 1,500 feet to date. It is planned to drill down some 4,000 feet in the hope of striking it rich.

If oil or natural gas, or both, are found in any quantity on the "EP" ranch, the Duke stands to make a tidy little fortune, which could easily become his major source of income.

When the ex-King purchased the ranch in 1919, he also bought a 99-year lease on the property's mineral rights.

He will receive handsome oil royalties if his new well gushes forth the rich black liquid gold.

This is the first major hunt for oil on his ranch.

Dramatic photos snapped by John Spickire catch Merle Bibbs, 38, at the start (left) and mid-way point of his suicide leap from atop a 130-foot tower of an Indianapolis, Ind., industrial plant. Bibbs, father of four children, jumped after police had begged him to come down for three hours.

May Day Riots By 20,000 Japs

Machine Gun-Armed Police Charged
By Anti-U.S. Mob: Hundreds Hurt

TOKYO, May 1 (CP).—Twenty thousand Communist-led anti-American rioters fought police with clubs and stones in front of the Imperial Palace.

United States troops armed with machine-guns fanned out through the city to protect foreign lives and property in the worst riot in Japan since the end of the Second World War.

The tumultuous May Day demonstrations came only three days after Japan formally regained her independence.

Americans were attacked, stoned and mauled. But none was seriously hurt.

Club-swinging rioters charged 1,000 steel-helmeted police. They clubbed 218 officers to the ground, injuring 51 seriously.

But each time the police beat back the human waves with tear gas, clubs and guns.

Uncounted hundreds of rioters also were injured. One was reported killed by gunfire.

Riots also broke out in Kyoto, former capital of Japan 230 miles southwest of Tokyo. There, 3,000 Koreans stormed city offices and fought with police. They were halted by tear gas.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman said no official protest was contemplated as a result of the Tokyo riot.

Demonstrators stormed through the streets shouting anti-American slogans, waving Red banners and carrying pictures of Stalin and other Communist leaders.

The Reds broke through police lines and stormed into the plaza of the Imperial Palace. A large mob barred them from the palace proper.

They melted before the residence of Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida, shouting "Down with the Yoshida cabinet."

At least two American soldiers were roughed up by the mob. The wife of an American Navy officer was mauled.

The Reds smashed jeep windshields to the tune of anti-American slogans and the strains of the Communist Internationale. Pictures of Stalin and Mao Tse-tung were waved aloft. Police were jeered by catcalls of "puppets."

The Reds grabbed control of parts of the day's largest gathering at Meiji Park. They broke up a large gathering just before Norman Thomas began a speech.

Kyodo news agency said about 3,000,000 turned out for the May Day celebrations throughout the country.

FINAL BULLETINS

Stock Men Request New Cattle Ban

VANCOUVER, May 1 (CP).—British Columbia's stock men called for re-imposition of the meat ban today as another outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease was reported from Saskatchewan.

A poll of leading stock men showed that many want the border sealed again against all meat imports. Almost all felt present restrictions inadequate to protect B.C.'s herds and game against the dangerous disease.

Edmonton Would Join W.I.L.

VANCOUVER, May 1 (CP).—Edmonton has offered to join the Western International Baseball League—provided New Westminster gets a franchise too.

In a letter to Don Carlson, Vancouver Daily Province sports editor, John Ducey, president of the Edmonton Senior Baseball League, said, "Both Edmonton and Calgary are recognized by organized baseball as 'tremendous assets' in its expanding domain."

Truman Plans Steel Strike Action

WASHINGTON, May 1 (AP).—President Truman said today he will take every action possible to get the steel strike settled.

But the President declined at his press conference to give any clue as to what he may have in mind in an effort to get steel production going.

He said he will abide by whatever decision the Supreme Court makes in the litigation over his seizure of the steel mills.

Northern Fishermen Ask Increase

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C., May 1 (CP).—Two hundred fishermen of B.C.'s northern trawl fleet are in port here awaiting negotiations between the union and the companies on new fish prices.

The men, represented by the United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union (U.F.A.W.), are asking a one-half-cent-a-pound increase for all types of sole, 1-cent more for ling cod, and no reduction in the price of grey cod.

NO SIGN OF LIFE SEEN AS PLANE WRECK SPOTTED

MIAMI, Fla., May 1 (AP).—Wreckage of a missing Pan-American World Airways luxury stratospherer was sighted near Carolina, Brazil, today and reports said there was no sign of any survivors.

The plane disappeared April 29 with 50 persons aboard, 19 of them Americans.

P.A.A. officials in Miami said messages indicated the aircraft had split in halves and burned.

The wreckage was spotted by a searching cargo plane in the vicinity of Carolina, some 300 miles southeast of Belem.

Carolina is a river port of about 3,500 population and has a big airfield.

Yates St. Hall 'Last Resort'

Harrison Uses Statutory Powers to Send
Fire Station Question Back to Council

Mayor Claude Harrison today used his statutory powers to send back to City Council for reconsideration the question of abolition of Yates Street firehall.

He recommended that council deal with cutting out the fire hall with its consequent dismissal of 14 men only as "a last resort."

He wants all other matters in estimates dealt with first.

"Closing of a fire hall is a major matter in city life," the mayor said, in giving grounds for his intervention.

"It may seriously affect property and life and may cause large financial loss through insurance rates."

He said the fire hall was close to two schools. He feels further inquiry in the matter should be made of the fire chief, and the chief questioned by the fire wardens committee if necessary.

Action Automatically Vetoed

No motion was necessary, as the mayor in exercising his powers under the Municipal Act, automatically vetoed that portion of the budget debate until all other estimates had been considered.

If council wishes to wind up estimates today they will likely go into a night session.

The mayor had the firehall question moved to the end of debate so that council "will be apprised of every item that can be eliminated."

He advocated also obtaining a written opinion from the city manager on the whole question.

Fire Chief Frank Briers, on learning of City Council's action in cutting out the firehall Tuesday, wrote immediately protesting the move in the "public interest."

Ald. Waldo Skillings, chairman of the fire wardens' committee, which recommended closure and dismissal of 14 men, was not present at the early part of this morning's estimates session. He issued the following statement, however:

"I disagree entirely with the mayor's action in this matter. In making my presentation to council, I did so with one thought in mind: to reduce the provisional mill rate.

"To reduce that rate necessitated reduction in all city services. I felt that with modern fast equipment we could give satisfactory protection with three fire stations instead of four."

Anglicans Will Call Meeting of Churches

The British Columbia Diocesan Synod today voted to press for introduction of Christian teaching in schools throughout the province.

The 250 representatives of Anglican clergy and laymen attending the 50th Synod meeting here decided to go ahead with the proposal at the final session at Memorial Hall.

It is planned that the executive committee of provincial synod take the matter under advisement and call a meeting of heads of all Christian churches in the province.

The representatives of all religions could determine what form the Christian teachings should take and then go to the provincial government as a group to ask that their recommendations be implemented.

The issue was raised before the Synod conference today by K. C. Symons, headmaster of St. Michael's private school for boys, and was supported by Capt. J. D. Prentice, R.C.N. (Ret.).

WOULD REPEAL STATUTE
Symons called for "repeal of that most un-Christian statute which at present denies any efficient form of Christian education to our children in their schools."

His reference was to the existing "government regulation which provides the only Christian education in schools by reading of passages from the Bible without comment by a layman."

Capt. Prentice contributed: "I hate to think of my grandchildren going to a school where that is the only Christian teaching they will receive."

Archbishop Harold E. Sexton, presiding over the Synod, gave support to the proposal. He recalled leaders of B.C. churches, including Roman Catholics, had met several years ago and had achieved unanimity on having Christian principles taught in the schools.

He said the only apparent reason nothing was done to implement the churchmen's suggestions was that opposition had been raised to the plan by the Orangemen's organization.

"I don't know what they had to do with it," the archbishop declared. "As far as I know the Orangemen's organization is just another lodge. But apparently their objection was heeded by the authorities."

Archbishop Sexton thought another united attempt by churches of the province would prove more successful.

Court Rules Government Can Raise Steel Wages

WASHINGTON, May 1 (AP).—The U.S. Court of Appeals by a 5 to 4 vote refused today to bar the government from raising wages of steel workers while it holds the seized mills.

The vote denying a plea from major steel companies that the court enjoin Commerce Secretary Charles Sawyer from doing anything about wages and working conditions was the same as that by which the court Wednesday night returned the steel plants to government control.

Only a few minutes before the decision was announced Sawyer said he did not intend to take any "precipitate" action about wages.

The government manager of the steel mills said the situation is so fluid that "the employees and I myself, and the operators, too, are at the moment in a revolving door. We are neither coming in nor going out."

Sawyer also called in a statement for:

1. New negotiations by the industry and the steel workers since their walkout came when U.S. District Judge David Pine ruled on Tuesday that the government seizure was illegal and the mills must be returned to their owners.

The Court of Appeals' action today leaves the government free to work out an agreement with the steel workers.

Ten days ago, Sawyer said the government intended to give the steel workers a pay raise, but there was no decision on the amount.
